Prologue

Doe-Wah-Jack 1964 is not just a record of our year together here, but it is also an interpretation of what Williams High School has been and what its spirit has meant to each of us.

As students, we realize that education is the strongest foundation of a forceful personality. For three years, under the guidance of the faculty, we have tried to attain knowledge to build that foundation. We have aspired to grow, not only in scientific knowledge and physical strength, but also in strength of character, in wisdom, and in a deeper understanding of ourselves and our fellow students. We have begun our struggle for maturity.

Throughout the pages that follow, we have tried to include all phases of school life that have been a part of the period of development for each of us. Although the pattern of our progress has been as individual as each of us is unique, each one has had the opportunities and has known some of the experiences depicted here.

We hope that the color of the divider pages will be as vivid as your happy memories, and that the dark pages will reemphasize the fact that the serious moments have an important place in our lives. In our attempt to make the book a complete record of all activities, we have added pages to include groups that have not been pictured in other years.

We, the 1964 Doe-Wah-Jack staff, hope that with this volume you will relive the year at Williams High School in the full realization that this time of your life is but a prelude.

Dedication

The door has been opened! For us, the seniors, all the years of our public schooling is ending.

We look back with nostalgia on the trying and the deliriously happy times, since both were a part of it all, as we built in our minds, day by day, our future plans.

We must now focus our eyes on new horizons and search out the paths that will direct us toward our goal. We shall not follow our paths alone, for the lasting guidance and influence of dedicated teachers will always be our companions.

One stands out in our memory holding open the door to the future. Not only has she given fully in her field of instruction far beyond academic requirements, but she has shared her rich life and love of culture with us, always beckoning us to and through the "open door." Her courage, integrity, and "joie de vivre" have sustained and strengthened us for the path ahead.

We affectionately dedicate this 1964 DOE-WAH-JACK to our teacher and friend MRS. GERTRUDE BRADFORD.

TRATION

DR. BRANK PROFFITT, SUPERINTENDENT OF THE BURLINGTON CITY SCHOOLS

We welcome Dr. Proffitt and congratulate him for his many contributions to the school system and to the city of Burlington during his first year here. Highly qualified because of his varied educational experiences as teacher, principal, superintendent, college professor, and director of the Merit Pay Study, this congenial gentleman accepts his role as leader of the Burlington City Schools with an earnestness that challenges others. We look forward to continued progress under such capable leadership.

Superintendent's Greetings

It is a genuine pleasure for me to take advantage of the opportunity offered me by the Annual Staff to say a word of greeting to students and faculty of Walter Williams High School. Your school is one of the truly important institutions in Burlington, influencing intimately the lives of thousands of young people over the years.

The quality of teaching is the largest factor in determining the level of educational opportunity in your school. Ultimately, however, the quality of learning is the test of whether teaching has been productive.

It has become apparent to me, as I have observed your teachers and students working together during this school year, that teaching and learning are setting a high standard. Burlington can take pride in Williams High School.

Brank Proffitt

Dr. Proffitt and Mrs. Strickland, elementary supervisor, look over schedules.

School Board

First row: Mr. Earl Pardue, Mr. Carlisle Isley (chairman), Mrs. A. T. Glenn. Second row, Mr. A. A. Alston, Mr. B. Tate Horton, Mr. George Long, Dr. W. C. Shanks.

Responsible for making many decisions affecting the welfare of the students of Burlington City Schools, the school board insures that each student will receive the best possible education.

Administrative Staff

First row: Mrs. Stone, Director of Elementary Instruction; Miss Wiseman, Director of Music; Miss Houser, Supervisor of Art; Mrs. Strickland, Supervisor of Elementary Instruction; Mrs. Porter, Attendance Counselor; Mrs. Fidler, Supervisor of School Lunch Program. Second row: Mr. Biggers, Director of Audio-Visual and NDEA Co-ordinator; Dr. Irvine, Director of Guidance; Mr. Newlin, Assistant Superintendent and Director of Instruction; Dr. Artley, Supervisor of Instrumental Music. Not pictured: Mr. Lentz, Supervisor of Buildings and Grounds.

Serving as a liaison between the office of the Superintendent and the schools, the administrative staff is responsible for coordinating the activities and programs of all schools in the Burlington City School system.

Principal

MR. JESSE W. HARRINGTON

As the principal and highest authority at Williams High School, Mr. Harrington must be both friendly and firm in his associations with faculty and students. Running a high school as large as Williams is an immense task; and since his arrival here from Wilmington two years ago, Mr. Harrington has lent himself wholeheartedly and successfully to his duties.

Assistant Principal

MR. FRED J. MILLER

In his dual role as assistant principal and athletic director, Mr. Miller is extremely busy. In fact, it almost seems as if he were twins, for in a typical day, he can be seen distributing books, counseling students, conferring with other staff members, or getting ready for some program. Mr. Miller is widely known and admired for his efficient administration of the duties entrusted to him.

Guidance Counselor

Mr. Bob Warren's friendly grin is well-known to Williams High students. A true friend to students in every respect, Mr. Warren not only advises students but also helps in administering such vital tests as the Scholastic Aptitude Test.

Guidance Counselor

Miss Kathryn Ray, one of our two guidance counselors, is always present to listen to our problems and to answer our questions about careers and colleges. She is also the capable adviser for our school's yearbook, the DOE-WAH-JACK.

School Secretary

"Hello, Walter M. Williams High School." Mrs. Gertrude Tisdale speaks these words in a friendly, pleasant manner many times each day. Always ready to aid parents, students, and faculty, Mrs. Tisdale efficiently handles the most difficult of problems.

Librarian

Though her duties are many, Miss Mary Ellen Hobson is never too busy to help a student locate books or magazines or explain the great variety of resource material found in our library.

Librarian

Cataloguing the many new books obtained this year is only one of the many duties fulfilled by Miss Rachel Howard.

my own country"

—GEORGE POPE MORRIS

From the first year of school until graduation, every student struggles through an obstacle course of nouns, verbs, and adjectives. Although this repetition of the fundamentals of English grammar sometimes seems unnecessary, the importance of English can be fully appreciated only when its role in our daily lives is recognized.

A basic knowledge of grammar is required for even the simplest of conversations. Only by facility in speaking can we make our ideas and desires known. Furthermore, if we want to spread our ideas or make them more lasting, we must have the ability to express them clearly and fully in writing.

Once we have made ourselves masters of the mysteries of composition and oral presentation, our study of English leads us into the realm of literature where we may get inspiration from the great works of the past and present. Here, also, we learn of the great authors who have shaped our literary world.

Our English Department, which now offers courses in world literature and advanced composition along with the traditional English courses, is staffed by competent personnel. Pride in our language and the acquisition of skill in it are very important to the survival of the American way of life.

Math Dep

From business math to advanced algebra, our math department directs us toward enlightenment from the darkness of the numerals system. The first simple courses in mathematics teach the fundamentals which are used later in the advanced, complicated problems requiring diligent thought and concentrated effort but supplying intense satisfaction for a job well done.

Geometry, which is at first
a confusing mass of lines, soon takes shape with the acquisition of the elementary theorems that are later used to prove abstruse problems involving polygons, parallelograms, and other figures. Solid geometry offers the interested student visions into the realm of three-dimensional figures and the natural rules concerning them.

The algebra courses taught in our school are, as the geometries are, primarily intended as a preparation for college. Algebra instructs us in high mathematics such as calculus, while also teaching clear thinking and accurate, step-by-step work. The algebra student must concentrate upon his work in order to acquire the necessary knowledge for solving the complicated problems.

Business arithmetic is aimed toward the commercial student as a preparation for an occupation in the business world. Providing knowledge of the basic computations involved in day-to-day transaction, this math is particularly useful to the high school graduate who works in areas such as accounting or clerking.

The student who studies extensively in our excellent math department with our capable instructors will find himself thoroughly prepared for whatever course he chooses to follow after high school.

In the course of civilization, man's knowledge of science has continually grown broader. This has made it necessary for him to subdivide his store of scientific wisdom into general categories. We at WHS are indeed fortunate to have facilities with which to learn the basic fundamentals of all of man's scientific knowledge. In the chemistry labs and classrooms, we may learn the essentials of the structure of the universe. Physics teaches us the elemental forces and laws which rule the cosmos. Biology fulfills our knowledge of our world by instructing us in the principles of life. By taking any one of these specialized courses, a student may get a sound background for further study in that field.

In addition to these courses, WHS offers a physical science course designed to develop a general acquaintance with all fields of science. This is considered essential in the face of the growing complexity of today's world.

In the world of today, you meet science in every side. Rockets are launched to the moon, and yeast makes bread rise. We at WHS are truly privileged to have a fine science department to equip us for future life.

Lab work gives us an opportunity to see and study first hand some of the many things we talk about in class.

Under the direction of capable teachers, biology teaches us to understand the complexities of living organisms.

Language

In a student's first contact with foreign language, he is rudely awakened to the fact that Bonjour! Comment va-tu? Buenos días! ¿Cómo está usted? Salve! are quite different from the sounds to which he is accustomed. Many days are spent drilling fundamentals and building a vocabulary from the very beginning. Gradually through repetition of sounds, dictations, and those dreaded tests, the strange became more meaningful.

The foreign language department of Williams High School now offers four years of French, three years of Spanish, and two years of Latin. More advanced classes will be offered as the number of students registering for them warrants it. In addition to the fact that foreign language study enables a person to understand better what is going on in the world and to become acquainted with the literature of a country, he also prepares himself for college entrance and placement tests and for the wonderful opportunities of travel. Students who plan to go on with graduate study in any field, even engineering, will need a background in one or more foreign languages.

Through our course opportunities and the excellence of the instruction, W.H.S. students can build a good foundation for future study. Practice with tapes in the language labs, novels, poetry, and short stories to read, and discussion of the colorful cultures of foreign countries make the study of languages not only enlightening but challenging and interesting.

—CARL BECKER

In this day of nuclear weapons and international crisis, the social sciences have become increasingly important to everyone. Americans have been shocked in the past few months into a realization that history does repeat itself as our President was assassinated under conditions quite similar to an assassination almost a century ago.

Here at WHS we students delve into the different aspects of the social sciences each year. Our sophomores find themselves thrust into an exhausting study of world history from the earliest zinganthropus man to the present day cold war. By the end of the year, they are quite authoritatively displaying their newly gained knowledge about such things as the Holy Roman Empire or the Ming dynasty.

Thus, with a solid background in the known history of this planet, our juniors are prepared for United States history. Beginning with the early European explorers of the new world, the juniors extensively study our country, its problems and achievements, in hope of gaining a better understanding of the government today.

Having completed these two years of history, our seniors embark upon a new area of study—economics and sociology. In the course of the year, no one is surprised to see the seniors poring over the stock prices in the newspaper to see if their investments have risen or dropped in value. Later they learn about the evolution of man and other subjects related to sociology.

We are proud of our fine social science department, which helps our graduates to be well prepared for the challenge of life today.

Many consider it a national responsibility to maintain physical strength and skill. Through our program of exercise and training in various sports, boys at WHS have an excellent opportunity to accomplish this.

The girls' activities by no means take second place to those of the boys. Through such sports as archery, tumbling, and basketball, the girls improve coordination and sportsmanship.

There is no greater feeling than the experience of meeting a physical challenge and being satisfied with a job well done. The P.E. Department gives the students an opportunity to accomplish these basic needs.

Because the subjects included in Fine Arts are strictly elective, only those students who are sincerely interested participate in them.

With the organization of the orchestra in 1955 and the 1960 completion of our beautiful Fine Arts Building, Williams High School students have a pleasant environment in which to develop their talents. This department presents a thorough and well-rounded program.

Whether listening to an orchestra concert, hearing the band, getting the Christmas spirit during a glee club concert, looking at an art exhibit, or viewing an entertaining play by the Dramatics Club, we should be deeply appreciative of the performances rendered by our Fine Arts Department.

Both a study and driving course are included. Under capable guidance, students are taught the safest possible techniques of driving. This course also enables parents to purchase automobile insurance at a reduced rate.

ion — Bible — Home Economics

Every girl should know the skills of homemaking. Williams presents the opportunity to learn these through Home Economics II, and III. The junior high Home Economics I course equips the girls with the fundamental knowledge of homemaking. In senior high school, building on this acquired knowledge, Home Economics II and III instruct the young ladies in the more advanced skills of tailoring, meal planning and preparation, and the art of concocting wonderful party delicacies. During the Christmas season, the home economics students prepare a party for the faculty.

Adviser, Class of 1964
MRS. MARY LATTA

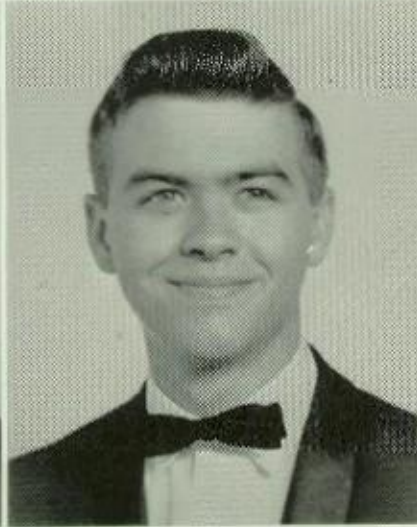

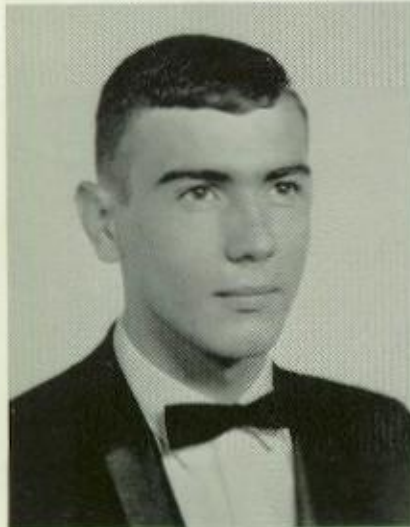

The senior year opened for us, the class of 1964, with a rosy glow of pride—pride in ourselves and pride in our school. We were proud that we had worked long enough to become seniors. We were proud that we were seniors at a school like Williams. During the year, we felt curiosity about what awaited us after graduation, and we began to answer this question in our own ways. Some of us applied to colleges. Some applied for jobs. But, all of us began to find a direction in life.

As the day of graduation approaches, we experience many emotions. Most of us begin to feel the nostalgia of leaving Williams and the wonderful years we have known here. We looked back on the changes we faced as sophomores and the things we did as juniors and the recent events of our senior year. So, at graduation, we of the class of 1964 leave Williams as students for the last time and enter the world of maturity.

Each day, carrying books and notebooks on their way to class or going on errands, W. H. S. students climb hundreds of steps. Walking from place to place on campus gives students and faculty considerable exercise.

Constant additions to our library give students a recent and wide variety of reading material. This year we have acquired more than a thousand new volumes.

An event the seniors really enjoy is the selection of the mascots. The behavior of these youngsters delighted the class of '64, and seniors often recall the incidents that pleased them most.

Using the same enthusiasm and hard work that make their concerts so effective, members of the chorus, garbed as mourners, loudly moaned and bewailed the fate of the W.H.S. homecoming opponents during the parade and later at the game.

Morehead Finalist

To be nominated for a Morehead Award is indeed an honor, but to advance to the finals is a personal accomplishment. Bill Purdy has achieved this status. We are truly proud that the district scholarship committee recognized in Bill the qualities of a winner. These qualities, as established by the Morehead Foundation, are scholastic ability and attainments, moral character, and physical vigor.

We are proud that Bill has reached this phase of the competition, and we rest assured that he will participate in such a way that we can say, "He represents Williams High School at its best."

National Merit Finalists

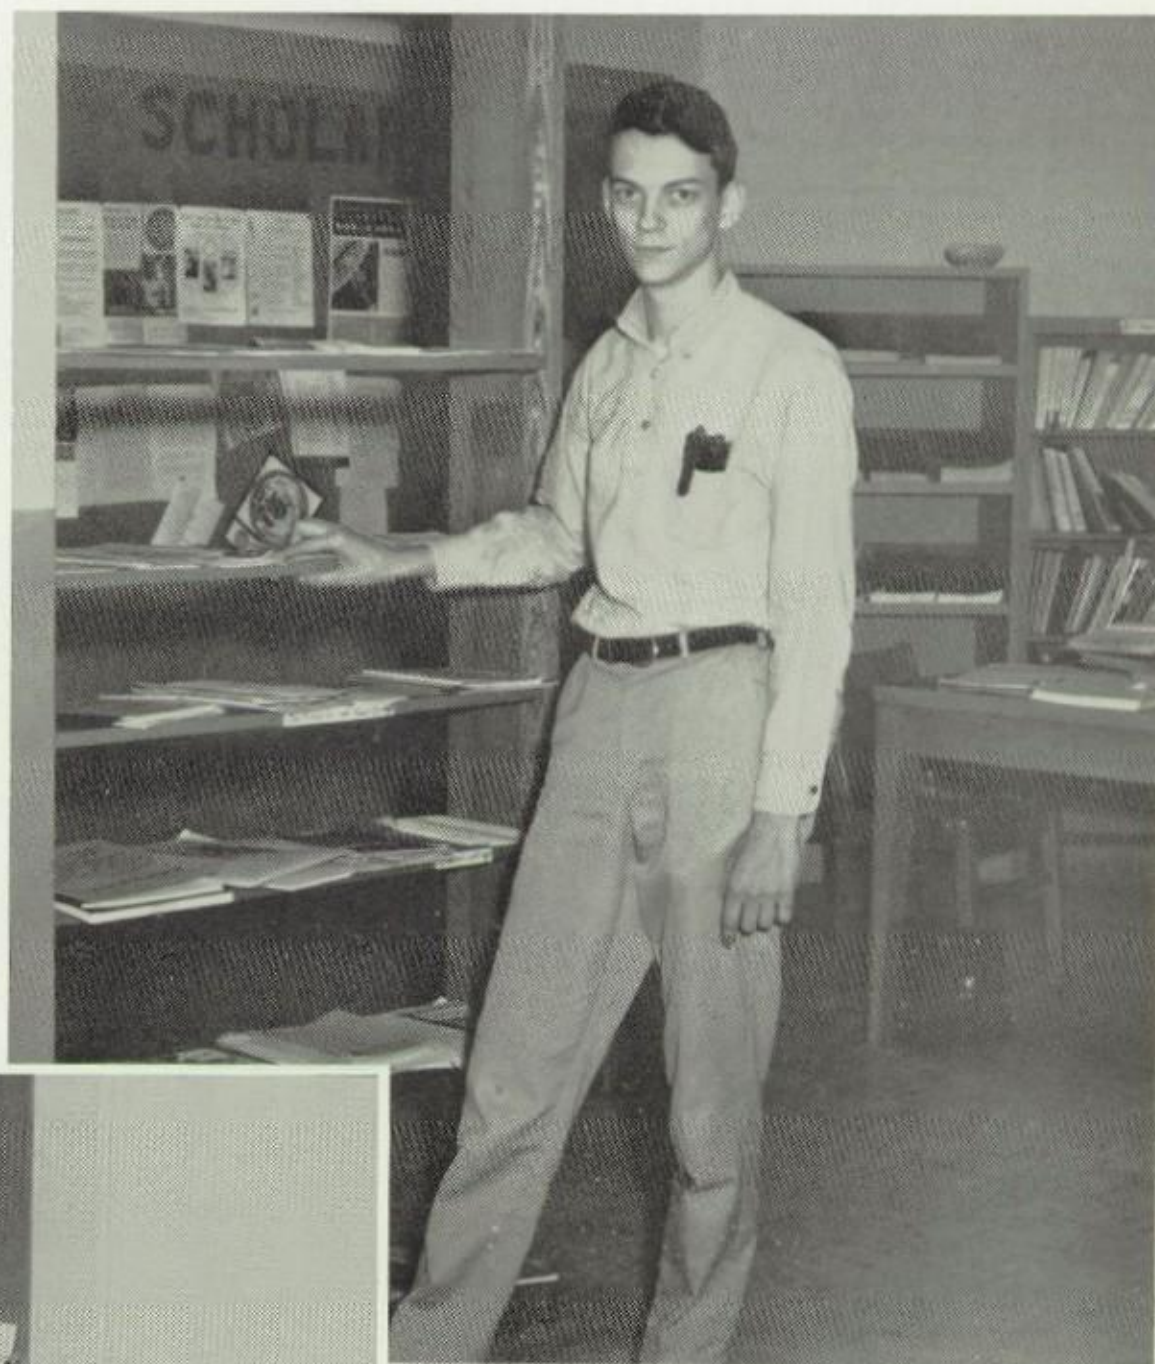

Kris Arthur and Carol Cole, the two National Merit Scholarship finalists at Williams, are seen here receiving packets of information about the scholarship from Mr. Harrington. These girls, named semi-finalists as a result of their scores on the qualifying test taken during their junior year, have now advanced to finalists. This means that, as the annual goes to press, they are still in competition for two of the more than 1000 scholarships offered through this program. These girls represent a fine combination of ability and accomplishment, and we at W.H.S. are glad that they have taken our name into this "arena."

Recognition

Scholastic Art Award Winner

We at Williams can be justly proud of such an outstanding artist as Herman Underwood. Although many students are aware of his art work, few realize the many art awards he has won. This fall his Scholastic Art Awards included a first place Gold Key Award and a first place Merit Award. At our annual Junior Talent Show in February, Herman took second place with his act "Art with a Parisian Influence" in which he displayed his winning paintings and drew a chalk sketch. In recent years he has also won many other awards and in January 1963, even had his own one-man art exhibit.

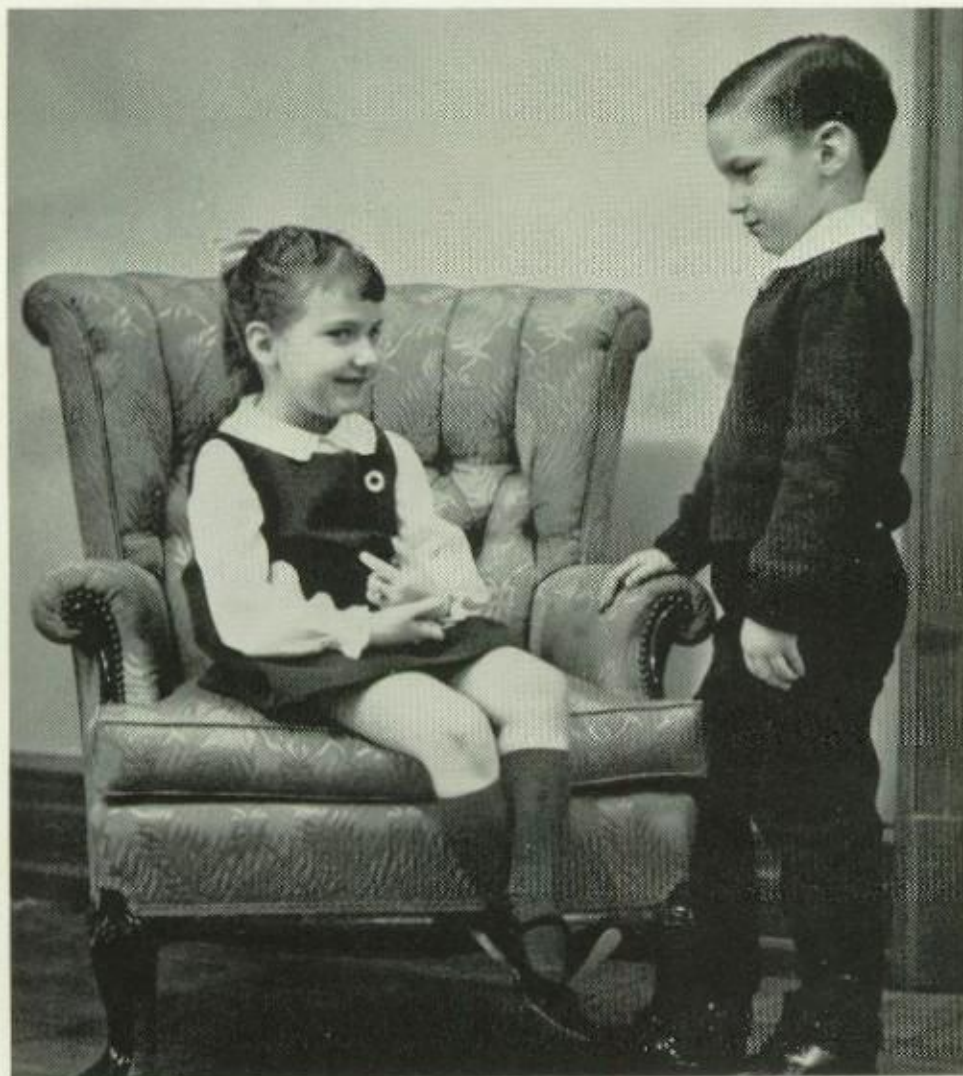

Betty Crocker Homemaker

The Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow winner in a school is automatically entered in state competition for scholarships. Basis for selection is the score made on a multiple choice test and an essay concerning knowledge important for good homemakers of the future. The school winner then receives a pin designed especially for this award. Because of her accomplishment in this competition, we proudly recognize Mary Meletiou, our Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Junior Marshals

E. Harrell, M. Spann, chief, M. Garrison, G. Wilson, C. Thompson, C. Harris, J. Newlin, S. Deal, E. Hicklin.

Miss Steva Hensley and Master Sandy Fewell.

These nine, elected from the junior class, will serve as Marshals for the Class of 1964.

Among their duties will be ushering at graduation and baccalaureate exercises which will be enhanced by their presence in formal dress. As Junior Marshals, they will also be permitted to attend all festivities planned for the Class of 1964.

Mascots

Here are the seniors' own little prince and princess selected in the December senior class meeting. Steva Hensley and Sandy Fewell are given the privilege of attending all senior commencement activities. The members of the Class of 1964 will long remember the charm of these two youngsters.

Honor Students

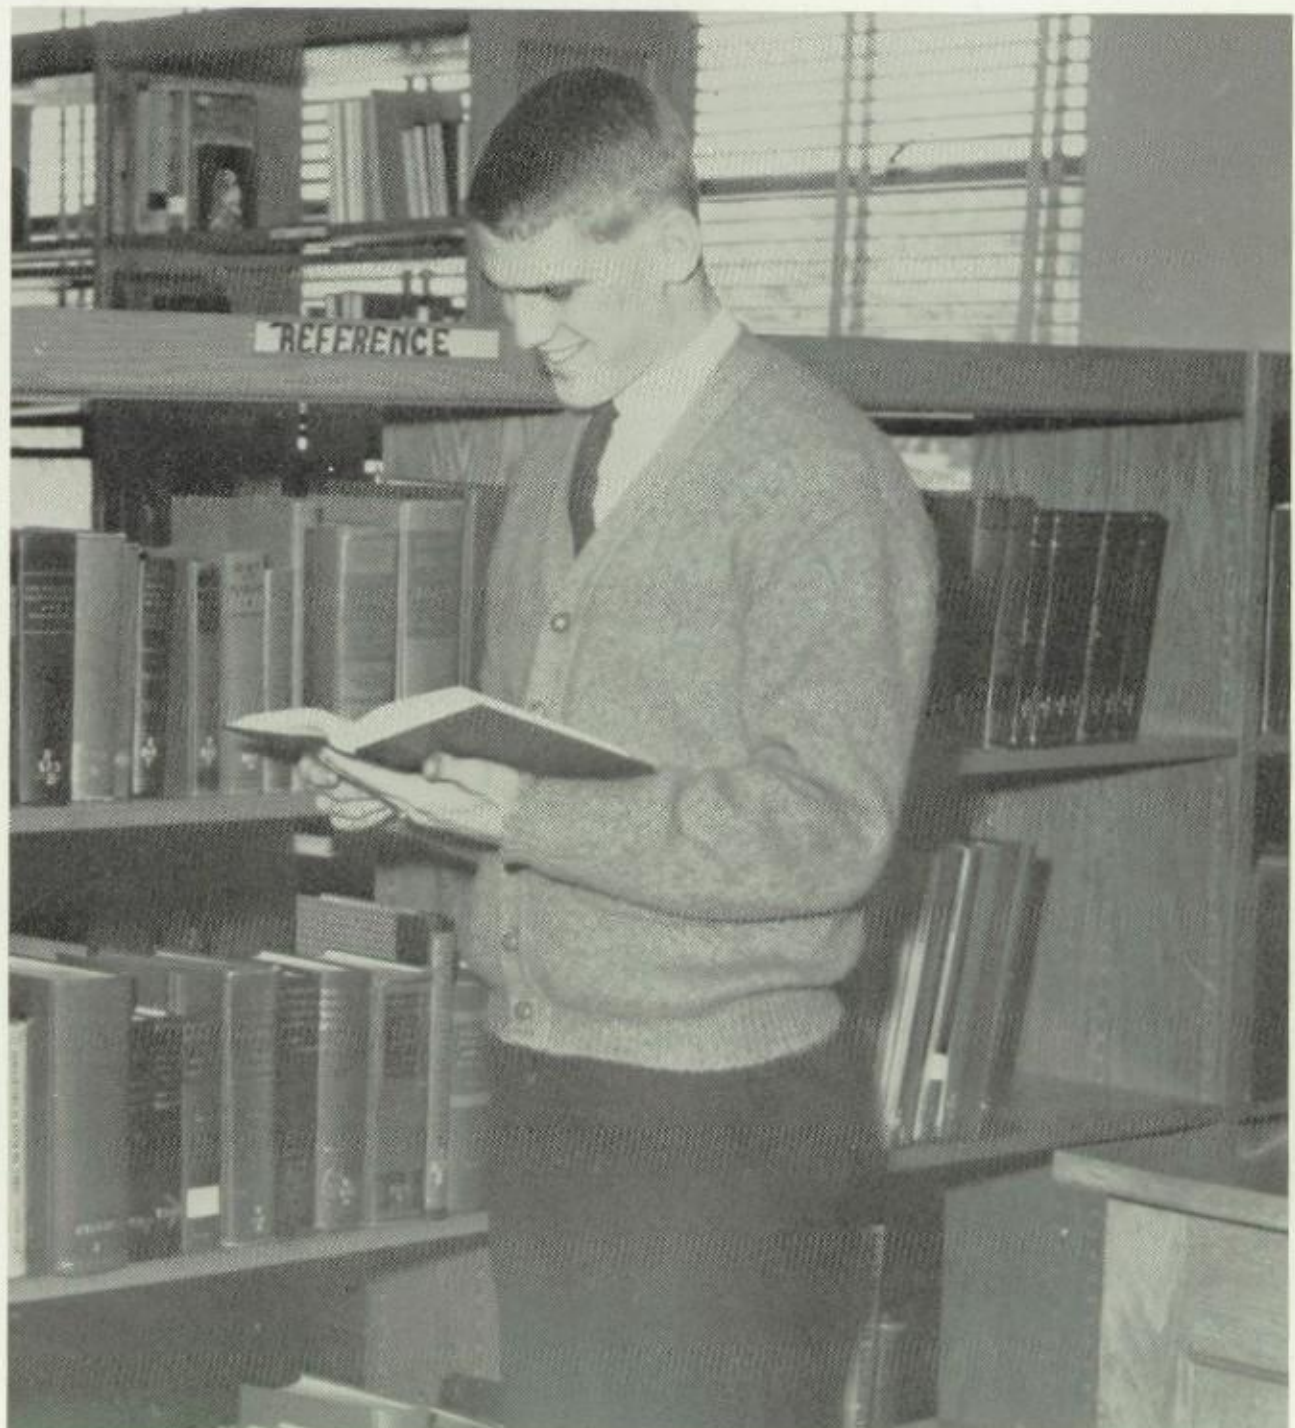

Salutatorian

Upon the senior whose average is second only to that of the valedictorian is bestowed the honor of being salutatorian. Although it is important, scholastic achievement is only a portion of the integrated personality required to attain this honor. For her outstanding scholarship and leadership in many areas of school life, the Class of 1964 honors Miss Kris Arthur.

Valedictorian

To the senior with the highest scholastic average in his class goes the honor of being valedictorian. This honor, the highest a senior can attain, is given to a boy who has displayed superior ability in scholarship and leadership. For his admirable character traits and for his outstanding scholarship, the Class of 1964 proud congratulates its versatile valedictorian, Mr. Bill Purdy.

Adviser, Class of 1965
MR. L. G. GUTHRIE

When we came back to Williams as juniors after the summer of 1963, it was with the feeling that we were returning home after a long absence. We "knew the ropes" at W.H.S., and we were ready for another year of work and fun. The fun was much like it had been when we were sophomores. We went to ball games and dances, and enjoyed just seeing our friends each day. We juniors had our own special brand of fun, though, on the day we got our rings. That was the best fun of the whole year. Nor did the work change much when we became juniors. For some of us, it got harder and for the others it got easier. Our main work of the year was the Junior-Senior Prom. First, we had to put on a talent show to raise money. Then came the work we did to prepare the gym. In all this work, however, there was fun. We were working together with our classmates for a common goal, and we knew that someone else would do it next year for us. As the year closes, we look forward to being seniors after a year in which we become better suited in all ways to assume the role of the graduating class.

Each sophomore first meets WHS in the pages of the Student Handbook but this first meeting is only a sketch of the full school life before the class of 1966.

Adviser, Class of 1966
MRS. EDNA WILKINS

When we came to Williams, it was with a sense of apprehension. We had heard quite a few tales about what would happen to us as sophomores at W.H.S. The seniors weren't as bad as they said, though, and we managed to get over the confusion of the first few days. We began to feel at home in the halls of Williams.

As sophomores, many things happened to us. We made new friends from other parts of Burlington. We studied new subjects, and we matured as we took on greater personal freedom and its accompanying responsibility. The most important thing of all that happened to us did not happen quickly but took all year. As the year wore on, we all came to realize that we were not the Broad Street Street-Turrentine Alumni Association, but the Sophomore Class, the Class of 1966 of Walter M. Williams High School. It was our float that was entered in the Homecoming parade, not the float of any other class or of any group within our class. We came to realize that we are the largest class at W.H.S. and that we have the potential to do great things. So, at the end of the year, we look forward to the junior year at Williams. The sophomore year has been a year of growing in ability, in personality, and in spirit.

“ . . . Let the word go forth from this time and place, to friend and foe alike, that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans—born in this century, tempered by war, disciplined by a hard and bitter peace, proud of their ancient heritage—and unwilling to witness or permit the slow undoing of those human rights to which this nation has always been committed . . .

“Let every nation know, whether it wishes us well or ill, that we shall pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend, oppose any foe to assure the survival and the success of liberty.

“Let both sides unite to heed in all corners of the earth the command of Isaiah—‘to undo the heavy burdens . . . and let the oppressed go free.’

“All this will not be finished in the first hundred days, nor will it be finished in the first thousand days, nor in the life of this administration, nor even, perhaps, in our lifetime on this planet.

“But let us begin . . .”

Each year a group of students are selected by audition to be members of the All-State Band. This year Williams was fortunate enough to have ten of their seventeen auditioners chosen. Williams was also honored by being chosen to hold All-State Band here this year.

Recognition

Governor's School

Of the 180,000 high school students in the state, 350 were chosen to assemble at Salem College, Winston-Salem, N.C., to study at the Governor's School of North Carolina, 1963. Chosen on the basis of their scholastic ability and interest in the subject matter, eleven W.H.S. students elected to make themselves a part of the initial year of the project. The school, a summer program for academically and artistically gifted children, offered each student eight weeks of concentrated study in a specified subject area, with less intense study in philosophy and the fine arts. The program was completed by recreational activities, and all who attended said the summer at Governor's School was a rewarding experience.

Our future begins early

Tenth graders begin all over again—at least from the standpoint of prestige. Sitting to the left of the seniors in the auditorium, we learn about what we should do this year and some of our responsibilities for the future. From the general orientation for the entire group, we began attending classes. Almost immediately we become aware not only of having more freedom during the school day but also of having more responsibility for our behavior as an individual and as a member of groups.

n our school years.

Classes go on and we discover that there are diverse opportunities for us—special classes and special ways of enhancing the regular classes. It becomes necessary to make choices, and we find that in order to do this we must begin to make some tentative plans. As time passes, we can see that wrong decisions can seriously affect the future for us. We become aware, also, of the necessity for personal motivation and for being flexible enough to cultivate ourselves in a variety of ways at the same time.

We explore our varied opp

Through learning and experience and progress we develop toward becoming individuals. We find that we can stand up in front of groups and speak and that we have potential in art and music which can be developed and appreciated by others. We come to know what it means to keep our studies going yet give time and talent to activities—clubs, publication staffs, teams, music groups. For our efforts we find that we are evaluated.

ortunities and make plans.

The process of growing up requires us to look realistically at ourselves and the world in which we live. This is our challenge. No one else can do this for us, but many can help us. The learning of the ages is available to one who reads extensively. Volumes have been written about vocational opportunities. When we are informed, we can accept ourselves, our talents and limitations; we are more ready to appreciate the assistance to be gotten from college and vocational representatives and from our own teachers and counselors.

We continue toward our goals.

In these years of senior high school, we have come to be aware of the full meaning of alma mater. From the institution named Walter M. Williams High School, we have received many gifts of knowledge and encouragement. Through our efforts for the school, we have learned the great satisfaction of working for and with others. Our devotion is reflected in the enthusiasm we express for our school.

We have built close friendships and enjoyed a broad field of acquaintances. Now we see ourselves as we really are: each is unique in his own accomplishments; each has learned to meet challenges in his own way; each has potential yet to develop. Now we leave high school to build the future upon the foundation of the past.

The king and queen look on with pleasure as the festivities of the prom begin. In formal attire student leaders have made the figure and now dance before the royalty. This scene is indeed the beginning of the pomp and circumstance that culminates with the awarding of diplomas.

As queen and king of a Polynesian paradise, Kay Loy and George Lupton witnessed a portion of a festive day in the South Seas. Early in the evening, the prom servers had a traditional island greeting for every passenger arriving on the island from the S. S. Polynesian Queen. As the evening wore on, the visitors were entertained with a dance by the prom servers and refreshments with an island flavor. The high point of the evening came when Miss Kay Loy and Mr. George Lupton were presented to reign over the festivities. The visitors to the island danced the night away under a Polynesian moon and then boarded their ship for the sad journey home from our Polynesian Paradise.

Bill Hughes, junior class president, presents our lovely queen Miss Kay Loy with an orchid lei, symbolic of the customs of the islands.

The mascots are delightful assets to the prom. Sally Anderson and Michael Greene enjoy themselves dancing to the music of the Fabulous Five.

esian Paradise

Prom servers perform an authentic Hawaiian hula, much to the enjoyment of onlooking seniors and juniors. The scenic background gives guests the feeling of stepping from a cruise ship into a tropical paradise.

The prom servers, elected by the junior class, spend many of their afternoons preparing for their performance at intermission. In their colorful sarongs and Hawaiian leis, the girls create the proper atmosphere for our Polynesian theme.

Homecoming 1963: R

Mrs. C. V. May, Jr., the former Kay Loy, crowns Miss Carolyn Kukel, 1963 Homecoming Queen. John Pitts, Homecoming King, observes.

Beginning with the election of the Homecoming Queen, an air of joy and pride is woven about WHS as the preparations begin for the festivities of Homecoming. First comes the fun of working on the floats for the parade. Many students work into the night to create many clever floats that will add to the excitement of the traditional Homecoming festivities. The Homecoming assembly introduces the final day of the last Homecoming in which the seniors will participate before they are graduated. This assembly, with its pep rally and the Civitan cheerleaders, arouses student enthusiasm for the Homecoming game, which climaxes the celebration. In a glorious half-time spectacle, the Homecoming Queen and her court are presented to the student body. After the game, Homecoming draws to a close with a dance, but many fond memories remain of the festivities of Homecoming.

Our enthusiastic cheerleaders and our Homecoming beauties receive much attention as they ride in the Homecoming parade.

The two beauties are our own queen, Carolyn, and Miss Jeanne Flynn Swanner of Graham, Miss North Carolina. Miss Swanner presented the traditional bouquet of red roses to Carolyn.

ember when

Finalists for Homecoming queen face the students who have just "voted" for them. Now the judges select one of these beauties to reign over festivities at Homecoming. Mary Ann Garner shows her happiness as do the other four finalists, Carolyn Kukel, Linda Wootton, Ann Hall, and Treva Agnew.

Homecoming sponsors and their escorts, who so recently waved at the cheering crowds watching our parade along Main Street, now line up for their final appearance of the day—the half-time formation for the 1964 Homecoming events. After many practices for perfection of the figure, these club representatives eagerly await the moment always remembered by all students—the crowning of the Homecoming queen.

All the color and pageantry, planning and efforts of many days and nights of preparation become a reality on this day. As the group of students move onto the playing field at half-time, the student body sees the eagerly awaited design take form. Then with pride everyone stands at the sound of the first note of our Alma Mater.

Student Body Officers

S. Deal, Sec., B. Purdy, Pres., B. Kernodle, V.-Pres., J. Newlin, Treas.

Much of the responsibility for good school morale rests upon the shoulders of the four student body officers. After staging a vigorous campaign in the spring of the year, these dedicated students give many hours of their time to insure the best possible conditions for the students of W.H.S.

Student Council

B. Kernodle, L. Wootton, B. Norville, P. Easkold, B. Purdy, J. Napier, M. Spann, B. Ippolito, J. Pitts, S. Deal, J. Newlin.

The Student Council, composed of the student body officers, the class presidents, the editors of the Doe-Wah-Jack and Barker, the head cheerleader, and the drum major, coordinates the extracurricular activities and hands down decisions on the major problems affecting W.H.S. student activities.

A well informed student body is the key to a successful school year. Homeroom presidents and student body officers meet each Wednesday afternoon to discuss and act upon the problems facing the student body. These representatives contribute many hours of their time toward raising the standards of WHS.

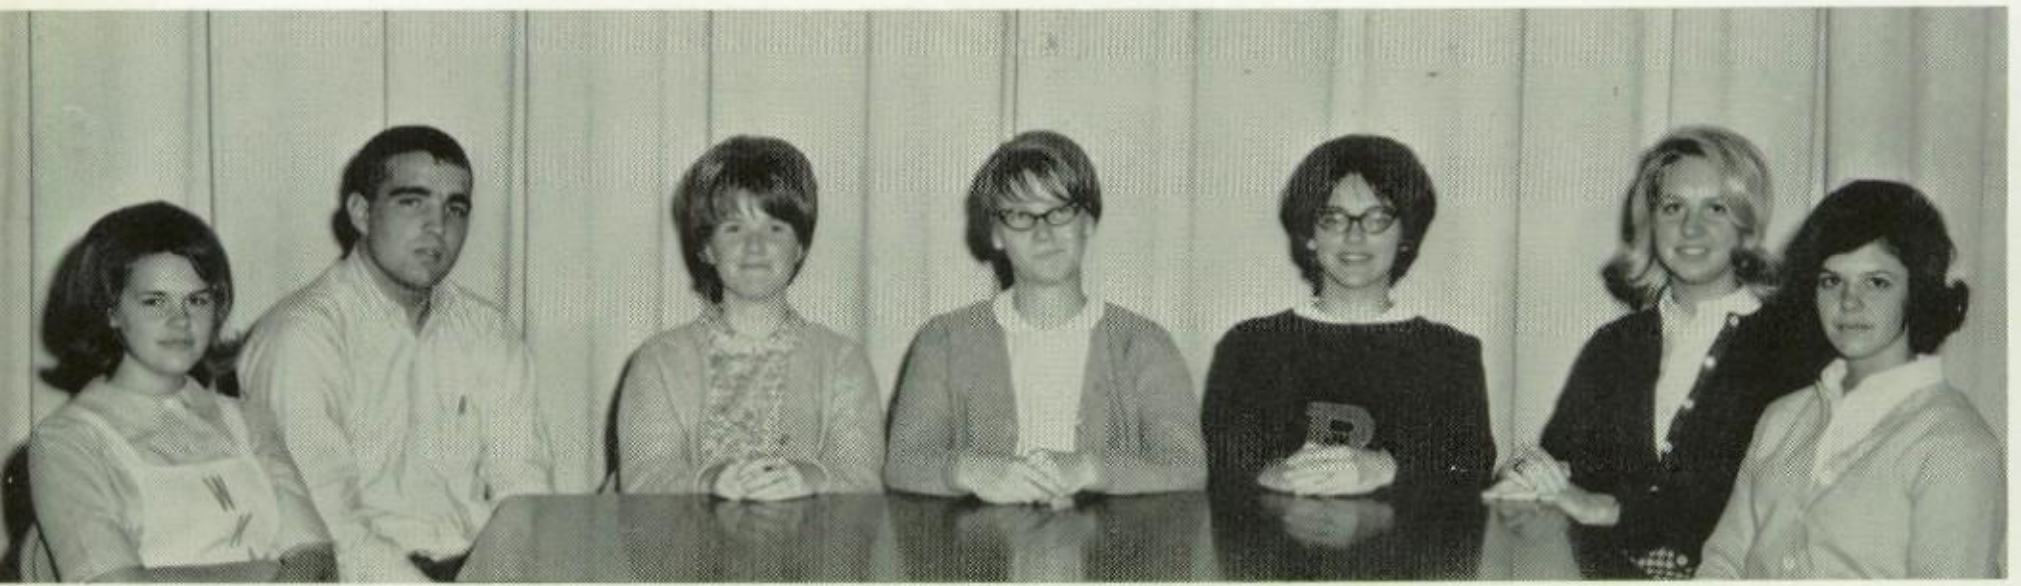

Interclub Council

First row: E. Horton, B. Morris, B. Shanks, S. Beck, S. Shepherd, M. Meletiou. Second row: L. Moss, P. Easkold, B. Reynolds, D. Cox, J. Roach, E. Meletiou, B. Ippolito. Third row: B. Norville, C. Kukel, S. Hooper, R. Sharpe, B. Kernodle, B. Smart, E. Fisher.

Upon the members of the Interclub Council falls the responsibility of coordinating the activities of the twenty-six clubs at W.H.S. The membership is made up of the presidents of these twenty-six clubs who serve as representatives, with the vice-president of the student body as chairman. This group functions as a recommending body.

ELECTIONS

An important part of Williams High School is its program of social activities and recreation. In addition to organizing the recreation activities during lunch periods, the Social and Recreation Committee plans social functions sponsored by the student government. The Elections Committee supervises the election of student body officers, and the Publicity Committee makes posters to advertise student government projects. Keeping the school neat is one of the responsibilities of the House and Grounds Committee. The Cafeteria Committee works to encourage students to take care of cafeteria facilities. Tentative plans for student government expenditures is the responsibility of the Finance Committee. All of these groups as they function reflect the willingness of our students to assume leadership.

Sports editor Jim Racster, with the aid of assistant sports editors Mike Spann and Jim Newlin, has had the responsibility of keeping up with and reporting on all sports activities over the past year.

Typists Nancy Thomas and Denice Quinn can be relied upon to type the necessary copy with speed and precision and, also, to be good proof readers.

Em Mae Horton and Mary Ann Garner worked out the details for feature sections such as the beauties, homecoming, and superlatives. Junior assistants Carolyn Walker and Sue Isley fill in wherever needed.

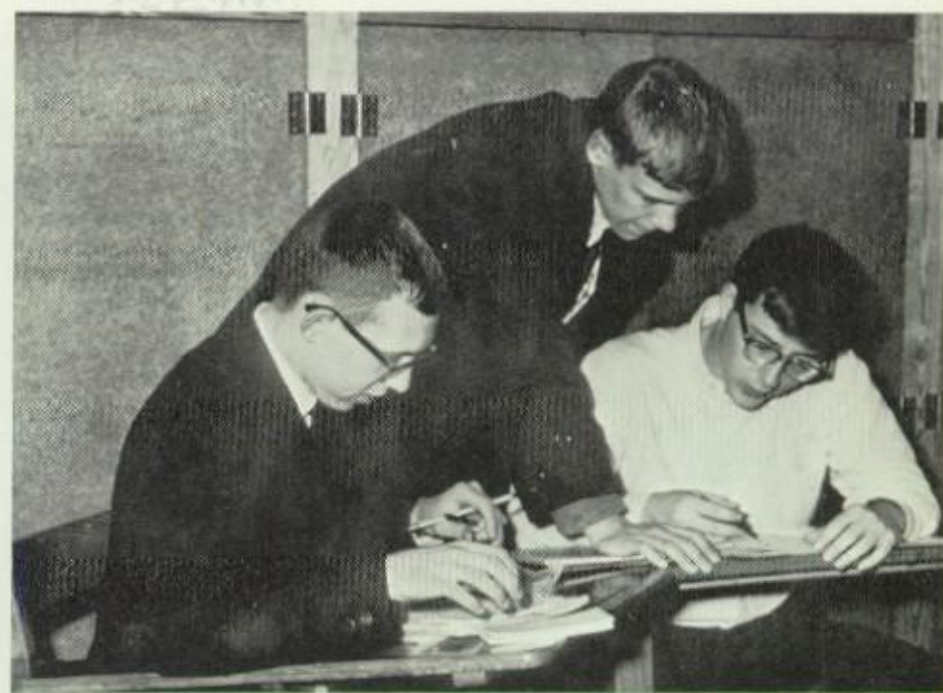

The 1964 DOE-WAH-JACK was planned as a work that would sum up one year of WHS activities. A willing and hardworking staff tackled the task of presenting the traditions, events, and places—all the memories of W.H.S. in this one edition. DOE-WAH-JACK 1964 is the culmination of many months of work, sweat, aggravation and frustration. The underlying goal of each staff member has been to present, not just an annual, but your annual.

Anna Gail Dixon with Carol Freeman have drawn up all the portrait pages and collected quantities of snapshots. Junior assistant Sue Fulton helps out with this and also many other tasks.

Bill Hutton and Kathryn Marshall, with the aid of junior assistants, write most of the copy for the annual. Kathy Bryan takes care of all art work.

Advertising editors Charlie Jones and Billy Kernodle confer with business manager Jimmy Hurdle about the financial status of the annual. The major portion of finances for the annual is obtained through yearbook and ad sales.

Joe Robertson, Billy Landrum, and Elliott Fisher are responsible for taking and developing most of the pictures seen in the DOE-WAH-JACK. These boys take many hours of their own time to perform this necessary task.

BARKER

Senior News Editor Ann Mullis instructs fledgling junior assistants David Bowman, Sybil Cheek, and Mary Ann Elder in the art of presenting an accurate account of WHS news.

Examination of any high school publication should reveal one obvious fact—that it is directed to, and by, the students. Since the BARKER staff publishes eight issues per year, they are primarily concerned with recording events of interest and importance.

Scholarship, conduct, and above all, creativity are the qualifications for becoming a staff member. Pleasing the students is no easy job, but the BARKER staff handles it expertly. Their ultimate aim is not acceptance, but an accurate and unbiased report of the news.

Society editor Mary Ann Smithers and assistants Sheryl Deal and Beth Best are a familiar sight in WHS corridors on BARKER day as they efficiently deliver our much-awaited papers.

Junior Assistants Nita Cheek, Beth Best, Susie Beck and Senior Mary Ann Smithers give the BARKER a fresh-off-the-press critical analysis.

The motto of the Junior Civitan Club, "Whatsoever you would that men should do to you, do you even so to them," is a true indication of the fellowship and the desire to render service of the club. Services to the school and community are performed by the members of the club. Junior Civitans strive to become better citizens, thus building a community and school which is better for all. With the close association of the sister club, the Civinettes, they jointly go to church once each month and, also, have dinner meetings.

The club is responsible for the raising of the flag each day. Civitans participated in the annual Heart Fund Drive, built a float for the Homecoming Parade, and presented a fine assembly program.

To become "Buildings of good citizenship," high school students must realize the importance of being a functioning part of a smooth-running organization. As a Civinette, a girl has an opportunity to fulfill this realization by bettering her school and community. Carolyn Kukel, Civinettes' capable president, works with Mrs. Bright, the new adviser, to live up to the high ideals set forth by the members themselves. Entertaining children at the Elon Orphanage and providing a deserving child with clothing and school lunches are some of the worth while services the Civinettes offer to their community.

The Civinettes create another appropriate display for the cases in the main hall.

The Key Club, made up of the "key" members of the student body, has endeavored in the past year to help the school and community in as many ways as possible. Its major scholastic service project has been the compilation and presentation to the school of the Key Club Directory, a listing of the addresses and telephone numbers of all members of the student body and faculty. Other projects for the school have been a Homecoming float with the Keyettes, Teacher Appreciation Day, and sponsoring the Science Fair. No less important than its projects for the school have been the Key Club's service projects for the community. Their Get-Out-and-Vote campaign and gift of Christmas cheer to a needy family indicate the interest the Key Club has in every phase of the life of its community.

Keyettes strive continually to serve their school and their community through worthwhile service projects which include such community services as assisting the Muscular Dystrophy Foundation, assembling newsletter for the Alamance Arts Association, and helping a needy family at Christmas. Also important are the Keyettes' projects for the school—keeping a calendar of student activities in the main hall, making a banner for the scorer's table in the gym, giving an announcement board in the shape of a Bulldog to the school, and presenting 1964 calendars to all teachers. As these young ladies work for others, they prove the value of their organization.

In case the students of other schools forget what team they have met at W.H.S., they need only look in the direction of the scorer's table, where a banner proclaims that WHS is the home of the Bulldogs. (S. Isley, L. Wootton, B. Norville, E. M. Horton, C. Freeman, A. Mullis.)

Notices of games and assemblies will appear on the school's pet Bulldog, which has been placed at the main entrance to the school. (S. Murray, Miss Gill, adviser.)

Junior Exchange Club

First row: B. Smart, Pres., J. Johnson, V-Pres., J. Racster, Sec., B. Smith, J. Garrison, W. Davis. Second row: E. Scott, P. Dixon, G. Smith, J. Williams, P. Flowers, N. Allen, P. Snuggs.

Members distribute pocket bulletins.

"Unity for service," the motto of the boys of the student body who are truly interested in rendering service to the school and the community, the members of the Junior Exchange Club.

This year the club members participated in a city-wide clean-up campaign, gave Christmas cheer to a needy family in the community, built a float for the Homecoming parade, sold paper napkins and paper towels for the Senior Exchange Club, put out the monthly pocket bulletin which contains all the activities for the coming month. Also each month, the club selects an outstanding senior athlete to be the Junior Exchange Club Athlete of the Month. The latest project the club has undertaken is the washing and waxing of all the desks and the washing of the boards in all the homerooms of the school.

Exchangettes

First row: P. Easkold, president; C. Isley, vice-president; M. Meletiou, secretary; B. Bolick, treasurer; J. Oakley, C. Baer, A. Bernhardt. Second row: L. Quernell, B. Morris, L. Linnens, A. Fox, B. Edwards, J. Sykes, J. E. Wells, A. Johnson, Miss Long, adviser. Third row: N. Forrester, B. Eure, A. Apple, B. Reynolds, P. Inge, J. Neese, M. Macomson, J. Morton, N. Fewell, A. Sinner, E. Meletiou.

Although the Junior Exchangettes is in its first year of service to the school, its members have undertaken several projects. They have adopted an overseas child, sponsored a book drive, given Christmas cheer to a needy family, and sold paper napkins with the Senior Exchange Club. "Unity for Service"—the creed of the Junior Exchangettes—has been realized this year as the girls have worked together on these numerous projects.

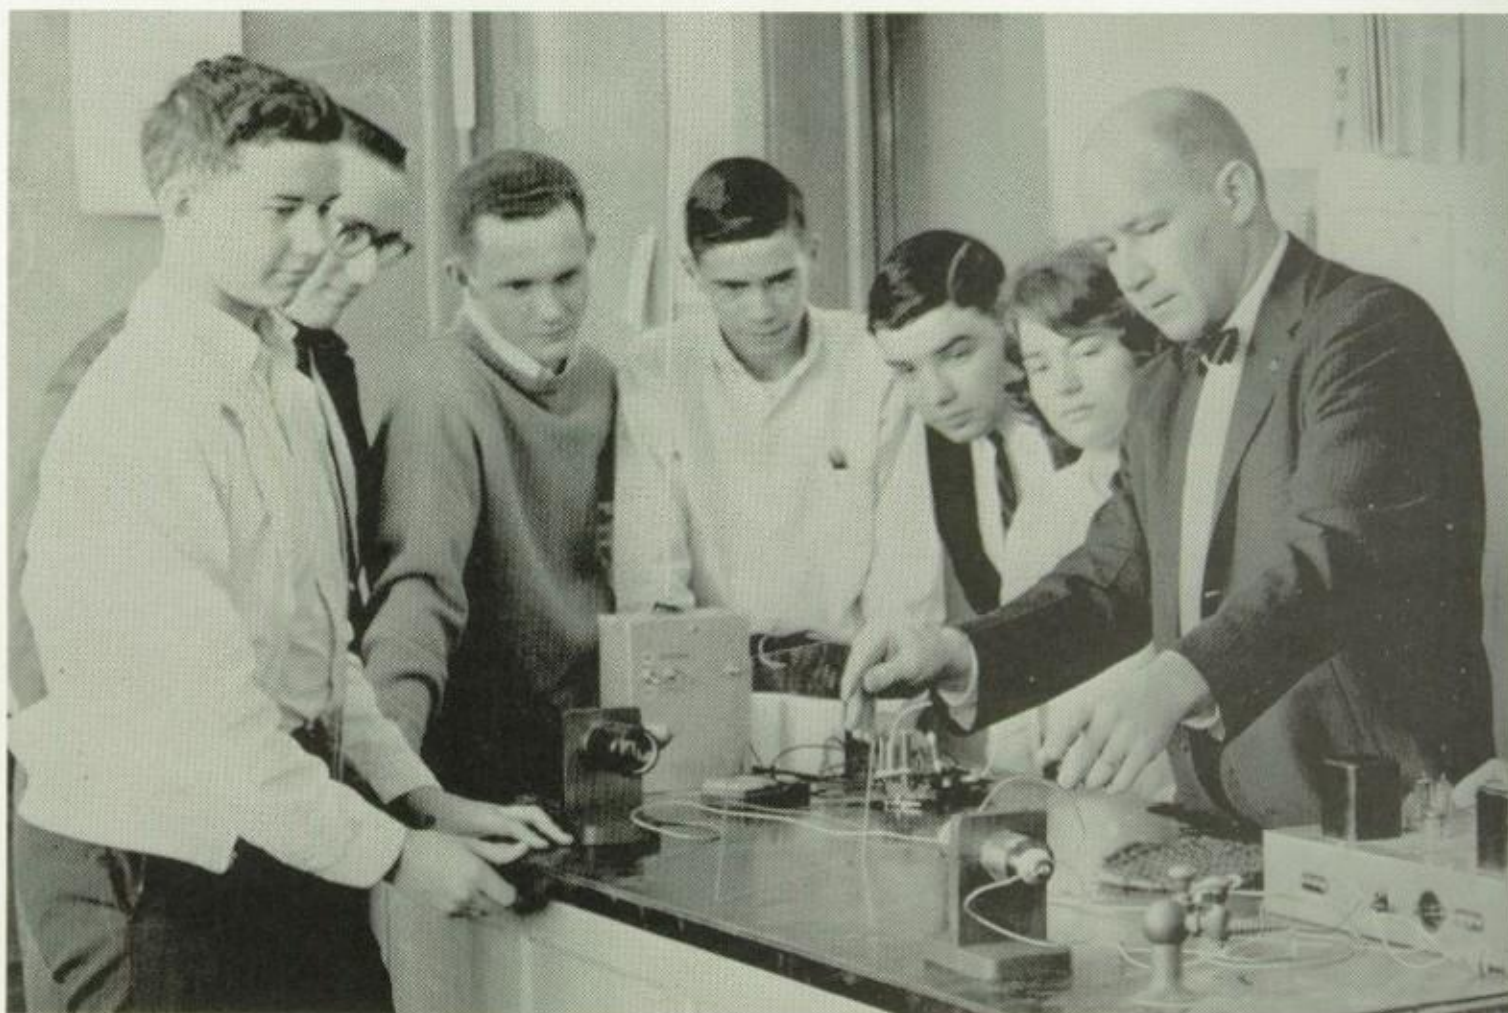

With the formation of this new club, more students are able to enjoy the fellowship and excitement of working on a homecoming float.

The Junior Engineers Club is composed of students who are thinking of engineering as a career or who are really interested in science. This year the club has two faculty advisers, Mr. Grigsby and Mr. Webster, and two advisers who are engineers at Western Electric, Mr. Barnes and Mr. Nahser. The club goes on guided tours and conducts laboratory experiments, primarily in the electronics field.

Monogram Club

First row: V. Winburn, president, D. Patton, secretary, J. Walker, B. Spain, J. B. Haith, B. Purdy, C. Halyburton, G. Sumner. Second row: R. Pate, J. Massey, R. Sullivan, D. Frazier, J. Averette, L. Blackwell, R. Schroderbek, H. Blackwell. Third row: D. Pardue, C. Chance, P. Pate, F. Marley, S. Storey, S. Whitenack, E. Hicklin, J. Pitts, S. Hooper. Fourth row: K. May, M. Garrison, J. Newlin, S. Allen, B. Crawley, B. Lilien, C. Wright. Fifth row: D. Myers, B. Hughes, S. Isley, M. Spann, H. Watson.

The Monogram Club plays a key role in the smooth working athletic program at WHS. By lettering in a varsity sport and retaining this letter throughout high school, membership may be secured in the club. The purpose of the club is to provide a common bond of fellowship between athletes at Williams and to offer their services at any athletic function. Some of the main services of the club are selling programs at football games, concessions at basketball games, helping to keep the gym in a top-notch condition, and awarding letter-jackets to senior members.

Steve Hooper helps to keep over-anxious fans off the playing court.

Tri-Hi-Y

First row: B. Hamm, S. Jones, C. Tillman, J. Bentley, B. Carswell. Second row: B. Shanks, L. Kandounas, S. Whitley, S. Apple, D. Edenfield, L. Rice. Third row: P. Gee, K. Beard, J. Paradise, H. Kitsinger, D. Whitt, E. Whitesell. Fourth row: C. Nicks, D. Burke, W. Ulmer, B. Forrester, J. Cook, P. Sams.

Having as its goal the development of Christian character in the home, school, and community, the Tri-Hi-Y helps promote these ideals through the attitudes its members display in their daily lives.

Health Careers Club

J. Smith, T. Travis, E. Williams, Mrs. Fay Moody, Adviser, N. Allen, T. Wojtacha, J. Payne, C. Wilkie.

Many decisions should be made before graduation. One of these is the choice of a vocation. By exploring careers in the health field, the Health Careers Club will perform an important vocational guidance job for its 154 members. This group is laying the foundation of a Health Careers Club here at W.H.S.

National Honor Society

First row: L. Moss, president; K. Arthur, vice-president; A. Kernodle, secretary; B. Norville, treasurer; D. Cox, R. Sharpe, A. Dixon, B. Purdy, C. Cole, P. Thomas. Second row: Mrs. Graham, adviser; J. Perdue, C. Hackler, B. Shanks, S. Anderson, B. Edwards, J. Merritt, V. Turner, J. Neese, D. Lacy, P. Easkold, Mrs. Garner, adviser. Third row: M. Shoaf, C. Kukel, A. Caruthers, C. Freeman, N. Fewell, S. Hooper, S. Jones, J. A. Roach, E. Horton, C. Isley, M. A. Smithers. Fourth row: M. Meletiou, S. Apple, B. Kernodle, J. Hurdle, B. Landrum, D. Quinn.

Basing its qualifications for membership on the high ideals of scholarship, character, leadership, and service, the National Honor Society endeavors to recognize high achievement in these fields. Two inductions are held each year. The first includes juniors in the top percentiles of their class and seniors who have achieved a ninety average. In the spring all juniors with the necessary personal qualifications and an average of ninety or above are named. The new members are inducted by the traditional ceremony of tapping.

Each member must maintain the high standards and qualifications prescribed by the Society.

Senior members are given the honor of leading their class in the graduation ceremony.

First row: M. Macomson, A. Bernhardt, D. Edenfield, J. Sykes, N. Jefferson, K. Bryan, B. Best, B. Bolick, C. Baer, M. A. Garner, S. Fulton. Second row: Mrs. Garner, adviser; D. Bell, K. Day, C. Walker, M. Balog, B. Lilien, J. Johnson, B. Hutton, K. May, P. Coble, P. Huffman, J. Newlin.

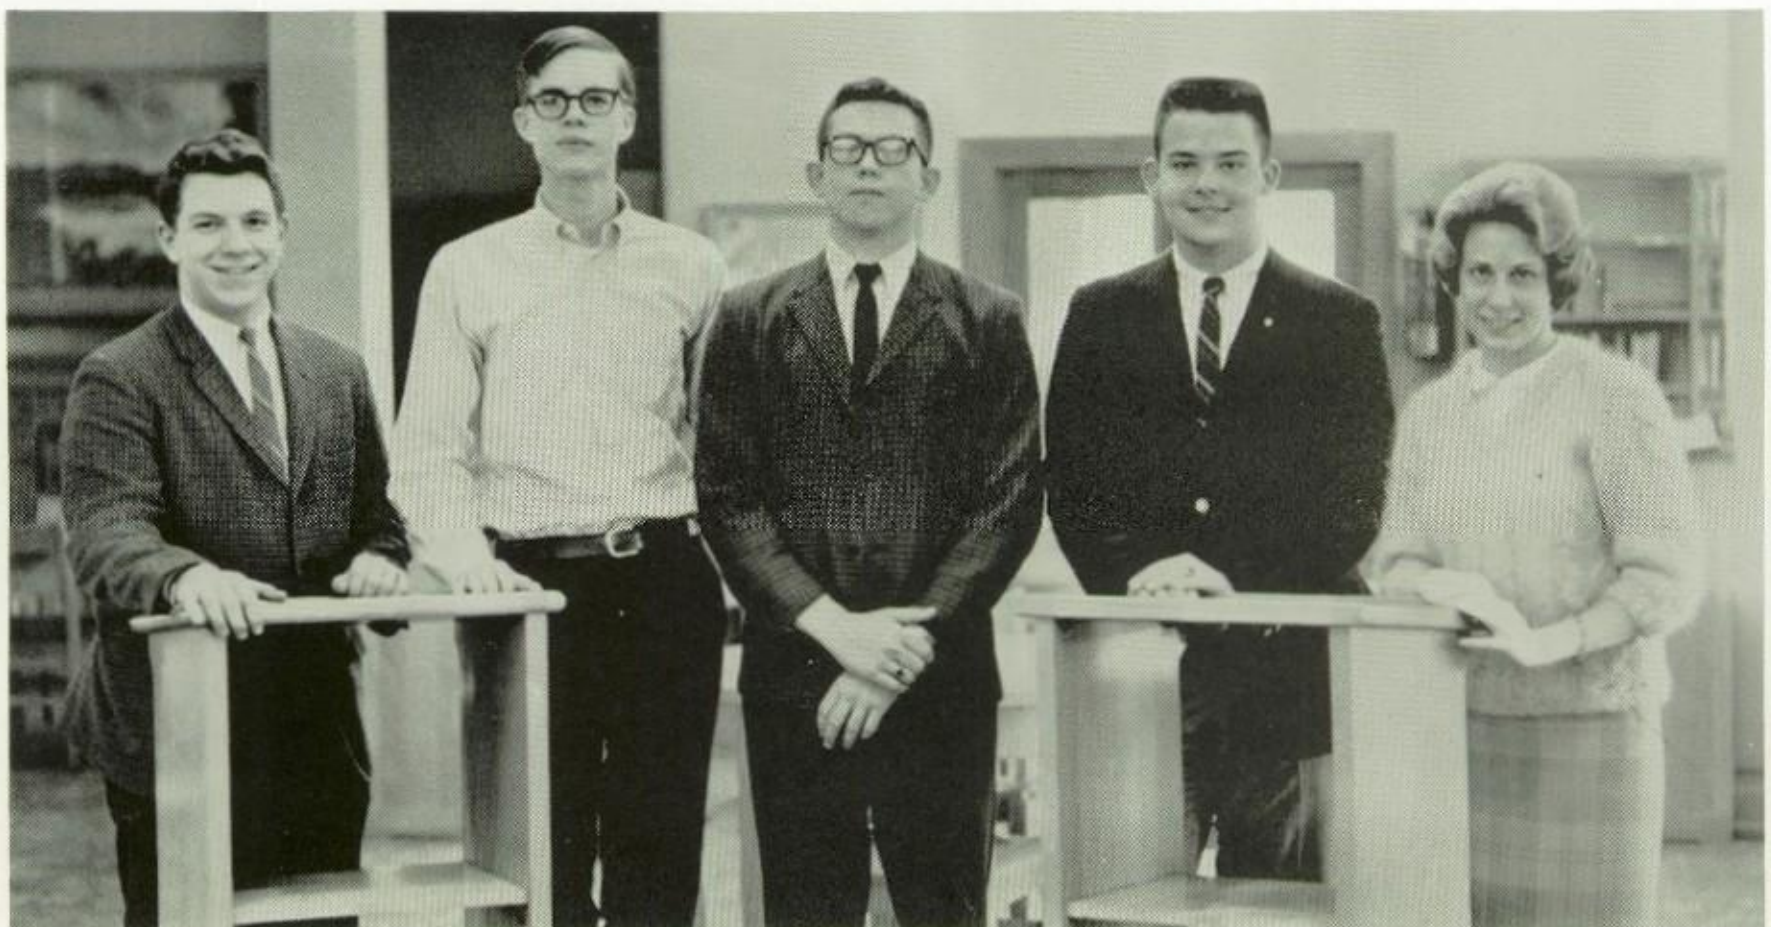

Masque and Gavel

First row: M. Balog, President, B. Morris, Vice-President, K. Day, Secretary-Treasurer, E. Garrison, B. Purdy, P. West. Second row: N. Allen, J. Robertson, D. Bennett.

Members of this honorary group are selected from the Speech-Debating Club, National Forensic League, and the Dramatics Club by their faculty advisers. The members meet the necessary requirements by participation in assemblies and other extracurricular activities.

National Forensic League

E. Fisher, A. Blanchard, N. Allen, M. Balog, A. Bernhardt.

The National Forensic League, a national speech society, is devoted to the promotion of speech activities in the school and to helping its members become more proficient in the art of public speaking. To become a member, one must earn 25 points by participation in various speech activities. High recognition may be attained by active members in the society who continue to earn points.

Debating Team

K. Day, N. Allen, A. Blanchard, M. Balog, D. Pardue.

The members of our debating team are chosen to represent W.H.S. in debating contests with other schools. Each year Williams debaters participate in the triangular debate competition and have often progressed to the state finals in Chapel Hill.

Speech and Debating Club

First row: A. Kernodle, S. Smith, A. Blanchard. Second row: J. Smith, L. West, C. Cole, L. Quernell, L. Wootton, S. Greene. Third row: A. Bernhardt, N. Allen, S. Beck, B. Apple, S. Deal, B. Hooper.

The Speech and Debating Club is made up of students who are interested in public speaking. In their monthly meetings, members are given a chance to practice and progress in the various areas of public speaking through mutual constructive criticism.

Le Cercle Français

Rhodes.

Eager to serve, willing to work, the Bible Club members have been actively engaged in numerous projects. Included in these projects is a scholarship for a senior going into full time Christian service.

Library Club

Miss Hobson, Miss Howard, Jo Anne Roach, Ellen Harrell, Jane Lewis, Diane Baysden, Margaret Merritt, John Adams, Tracy Blanchard, Linda Mahan.

Promoting interest in library work, rendering service to the school, and maintaining close unity among the assistants is the aim of the library club. This dedicated group, besides keeping the library in order, finds time to sponsor a needy family at Christmas and sell paperbound books to the library.

In their efforts to give students every convenience in finding books, the library staff constantly employs new and improved methods for the shelving and recording of books.

Librarian and assistants catalogue a wide variety of new books added to meet the increased requirements for library accreditation.

Scribbler's Club

First row: A. Blanchard, J. Walker, S. Caviness, L. Long, K. Day. Second row: D. Lacey, M. Meletiou, A. Bernhardt, B. Norville, K. Arthur, J. Eskridge. Third row: D. Baysden, R. Best, S. Greene, E. Garrison, S. Smith, M. A. Elder, J. A. Roach, P. Easkold, P. Hogan. Fourth row: M. A. Garner, S. Beck, N. Cheek, K. White, L. Wootton, S. Deal, M. Shoaf, K. Bryan, B. Best, M. Meritt, C. Cole, S. Cheek.

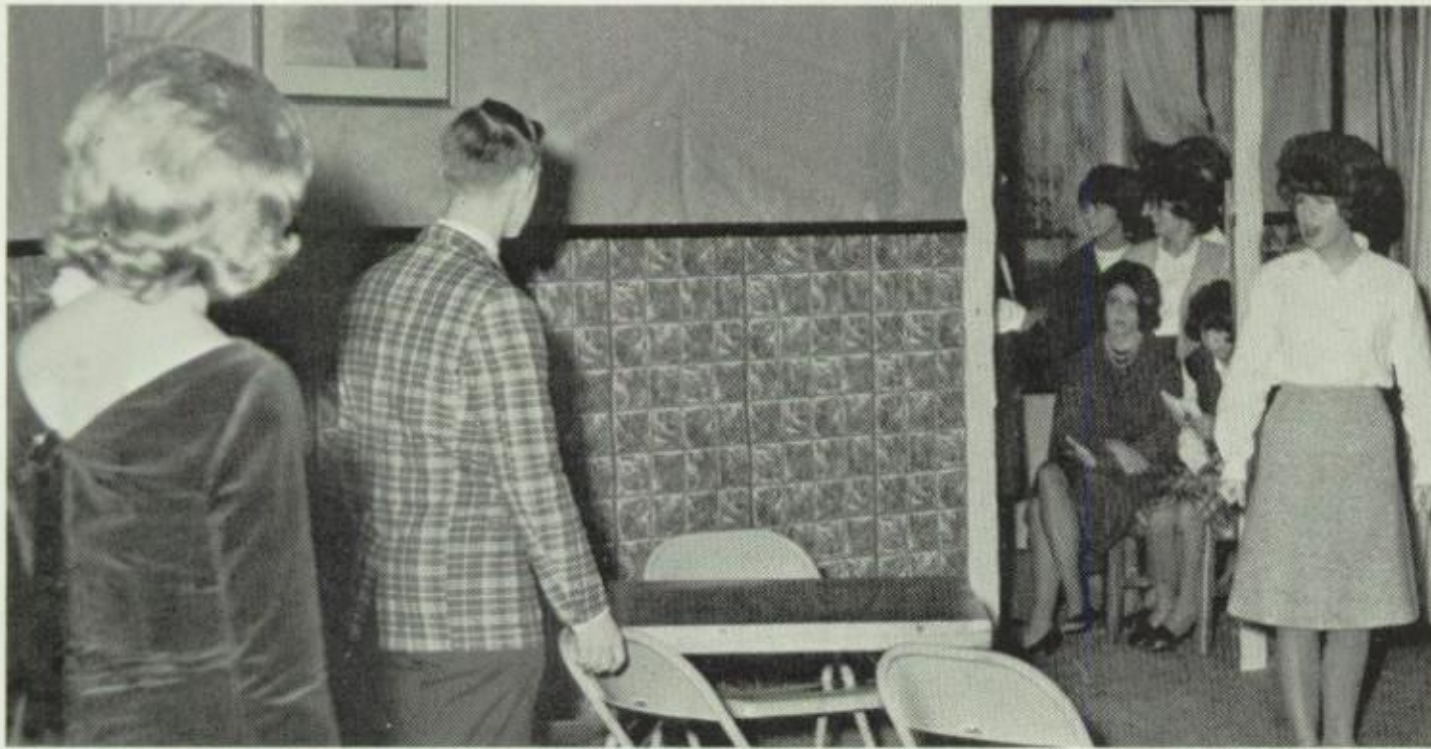

Students interested in writing seek the help of the adviser of the Scribbler's Club, Mrs. Dula.

Facility in creative writing is acquired through continuous effort. With this in mind, those responsible for the Scribbler's Club have sought to offer W.H.S. students an opportunity to improve their writing skills. Effective written expression, important in many of life's endeavors, is developed through competition of club members in the N.C. English Teacher's creative writing contest and a newsletter sent out to all club members now in college.

Dramatics Club

Points earned acting or serving on crews make a student eligible for admission to the Dramatics Club. The purpose of this group is two-fold. Its primary function is the development of dramatic talent among students at Williams through the production of plays. Another significant activity is their project to further stimulate interest in dramatics through the purchase of play books for the library. This year the club presented two plays, Ask Any Girl and The Unsuspected.

The students at WHS demonstrated their dramatic ability in their fall presentation of the play Ask Any Girl. The play was a comedy about a small-town girl who falls in love with her boss and the many trying experiences that developed. The show was a hit with both students and adults.

Guidance Office: P. Barringer, M. Meletiou, V. Riley, M. Bateman, B. Norville.

There is a tremendous amount of work involved in running a school or taking care of the equipment in a lab. Since all this work cannot be done by the staff alone, a few outstanding students have been chosen to help carry out this task. Always willing to help in any way, our student assistants do much unsung work to keep W.H.S. running smoothly.

The W.H.S. orchestra is an outstanding facet of our fine arts department. It is composed of the string students plus the outstanding wind, percussion, and brass players from the band. Each April, the orchestra participates in the State Musical Festival. Also, many of its members are active each year in the All-State Orchestra. For our own listening pleasure, the orchestra presents a Christmas Concert and a Spring Concert. Usually they perform during the pre-graduation baccalaureate service.

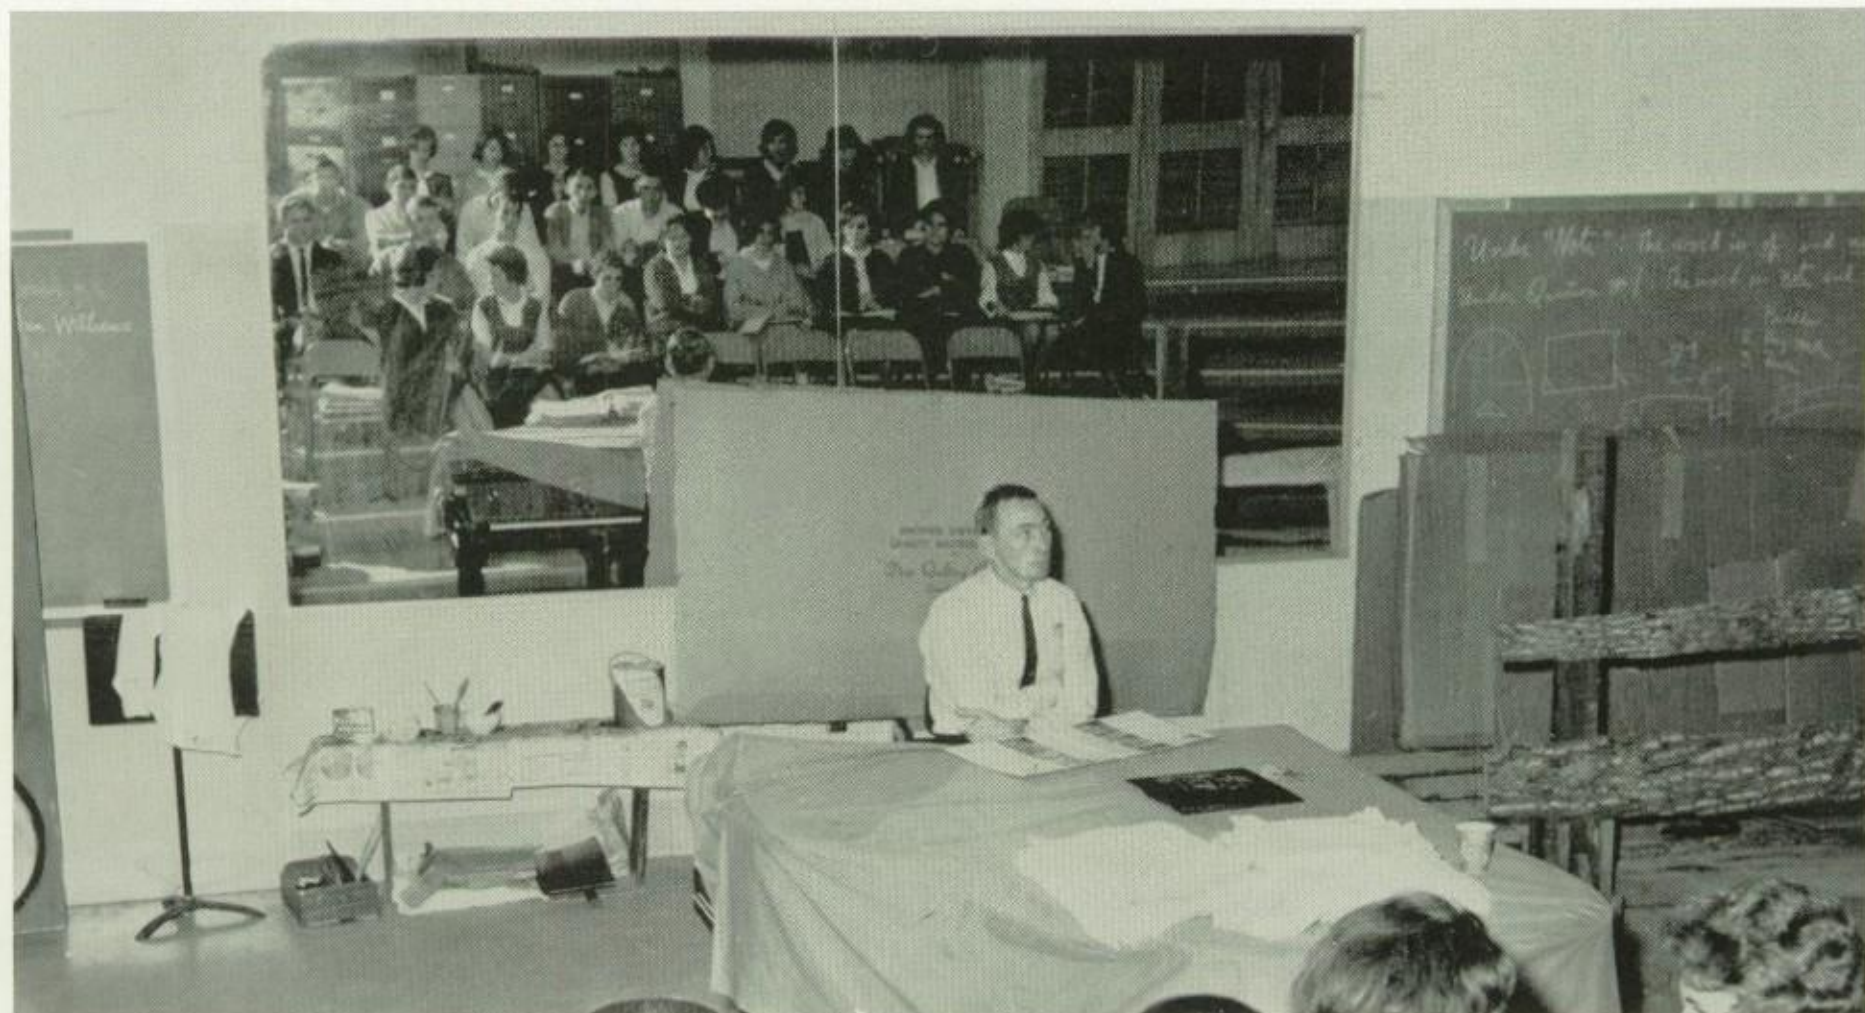

"Teens Thirteen," a special ensemble composed of thirteen outstanding string players, performs regularly for various community civic clubs and organizations.

The director, as well as the players, must feel and interpret the music correctly. Upon his shoulders rests the responsibility for success or failure.

Mr. Covert and the chorus listen attentively to a recording of "West Side Story" as they get ready for the spring concert.

At Williams there are many opportunities for a student to fulfill his various talents; and one, greatly appreciated by his fellow students, is in the field of music. Not only do the audiences derive pleasure from listening to this aggregation of talented high school students, but the singers also profit immeasurably from the privilege of skilled instruction and the experience of public performance. The eighty-five member choir, directed by Mr. Irvine Covert and accompanied by Pat Huffman, presented an impressive Christmas Program. The spring concert, "Best of Broadway," was exactly what the title implied, skits from numerous Broadway musicals.

Hard workers at W.H.S.

CUSTODIANS

"Cleanliness is next to godliness." Our custodians provide us with good working conditions. By sweeping, scrubbing, stoking the furnace, and answering calls, they make our school a better place in which to work.

MAINTENANCE CHIEF

A valuable asset to Williams High, "Smiling Sam" is always ready, willing, and able to do the job well. Mr. Yarbrough is never too busy to be of help to us and has become a friend to all.

CAFETERIA MANAGER

The job of the manager of the school cafeteria is almost overwhelming. Serving nourishing meals and coordinating the duties of a staff make her days very busy. We salute Mrs. Mae Tomlinson for her conscientious efforts.

Student Store

Jane Garrison, Jim Newlin, Billy Kernodle, Ann Mullis.

Our two student stores carry a complete stock of school supplies as a convenience for WHS students. Keeping up with stock and counting money each day are two responsibilities of the student store workers. The Vice-President of Student Government and the Student Government Treasurer are in charge of the two stores, ably assisted by two helpers.

Bus Drivers

First row: Clyde Hall, Frank Harris, Larry Evans, Charles Moore. Second row: Marshall Overman, Alice Bowes, Kenneth Fondow. Third row: Tommy Burgess, Johnny Greene, Don Nelson.

The safety of the students transported to and from school by state school buses each day depends upon this capable group of WHS students. This group gives us responsible service.

Members of the Distributive Education Club are interested in learning the fine points of salesmanship. D.E. aids students in deciding the all-important question, "after high school, what?" In addition to allowing students to participate actively in their chosen vocation, the D.E. Club has undertaken many projects for the community and school. Many members have been elected to offices at state and district conventions.

Industrial Cooperative Training Club

The I.C.T. Club is composed of boys interested in furthering their education, but working during the school day. Among the yearly activities are inviting outstanding community citizens to speak at club meetings, donating food baskets to needy families, honoring one employer each year for outstanding service to the school, and participating in the state organization of Vocational Industrial Clubs.

The Industrial Education Center which has been a real asset to the Burlington-Alamance County community in the short time since it was founded, promises to be of even greater service with its establishment as a technical courses, it will now offer some technical courses transferrable for credit at technical colleges.

Since IEC was founded, high school students have been able to take advantage of its courses by attending classes at the high school half a day and taking courses at the Center for the other half of the day. Many students have gotten an early start in their post high school training programs through this cooperative arrangement.

Training and practical experience are gained through courses at IEC.

Education Center

After acquiring facts and theory from textbooks, students apply their learning in laboratory experiences. This is true for both trade and technical courses. Some of the finest equipment available has been installed in this fine Center. Included are dental laboratories and a computer as well as art and industrial machinery laboratories.

Carole Webster, Kathi Wrenn, Jane Shaw, Jo Styles, and Nancy Dusenberry are members of one of the GAA bowling teams. Participation in this phase of the program will give the girls skills that they can use throughout their lives.

Association

Physical as well as mental stimulation is a vital part of the activities of the Girls' Athletic Association. Through student participation and management the girls learn leadership and character which will aid them in the future. The girls not only compete among themselves but also plan a number of sportsdays which will match them against other schools in the spring.

Girls struggle for possession of the basketball.

Showing their enthusiasm for W.H.S. by leading the students in cheers at the J.V. football and basketball games, the Junior Varsity Cheerleaders are gaining valuable experience, as well as promoting school spirit. They can be found selling programs at home football games

Boot Girls

A newly organized but popular group at Williams is the Boot Girls. With their precision dancing routines, they provide half-time entertainment at home basketball games, in addition to participating in assemblies and parades. The girls work many long hours, under the direction of Mrs. Robert Atwater, to create synchronized movement in their dances. In their perky black and white costumes they always receive enthusiastic applause at each performance.

Our majorettes add beauty and color to the W.H.S. Marching Band. Much time and effort was put forth by the girls in order to provide entertaining routines which supplement the band formations and musical arrangements, as they delight the crowd with talent and charm. These girls are chosen by the senior majorettes and band instructor after auditioning.

The chief majorette leads a catchy routine to the accompaniment of the band.

Clowns

The Clowns, Joe Pope and J. B. Haith, selected by the cheerleaders, entertain with their unpredictable antics and heighten school spirit.

Cheerleaders perform to the WHS fight song, ONWARD BULLDOGS.

On August, while most Williams High School students are still vacationing, the cheerleaders are limping around from the strenuous exercise necessary to get in trim for the approaching athletic events. Not only do these girls work hard to learn the routines and cheers, but they must assume responsibility for providing their own uniforms and arranging transportation to and from games.

Our ambassadors of good will, the cheerleaders are representative of the attitudes and spirit of the Williams High School student body. At home or traveling, these girls meet students from other schools and convey to them the general spirit of our school. They spark enthusiasm and good sportsmanship at our games. Win or lose, they are behind the Bulldogs all the way.

Keeping the fans' spirit high during the game is a very important part of the cheerleaders' job. Many new and catchy cheers have been added this year to spur the Bulldogs to victory.

The 1963 football team demonstrated the true WHS spirit. Underdog in almost every contest, the Bulldogs through supreme effort posted six victories over four hard-fought defeats. The goal of each member of the squad was to perform for either the offensive Bow-Wows or the defensive Watchdogs. Under the leadership of Junior Eddie Hicklin and the Bow-Wows and captain Bill Spain of the Watchdogs, this combination became an organization feared by all opponents.

With the graduation of the entire 1962 first unit, development of leadership was of prime importance. Through the inspiration of Captain Bill Spain, the fourteen returning lettermen fulfilled this desired requirement.

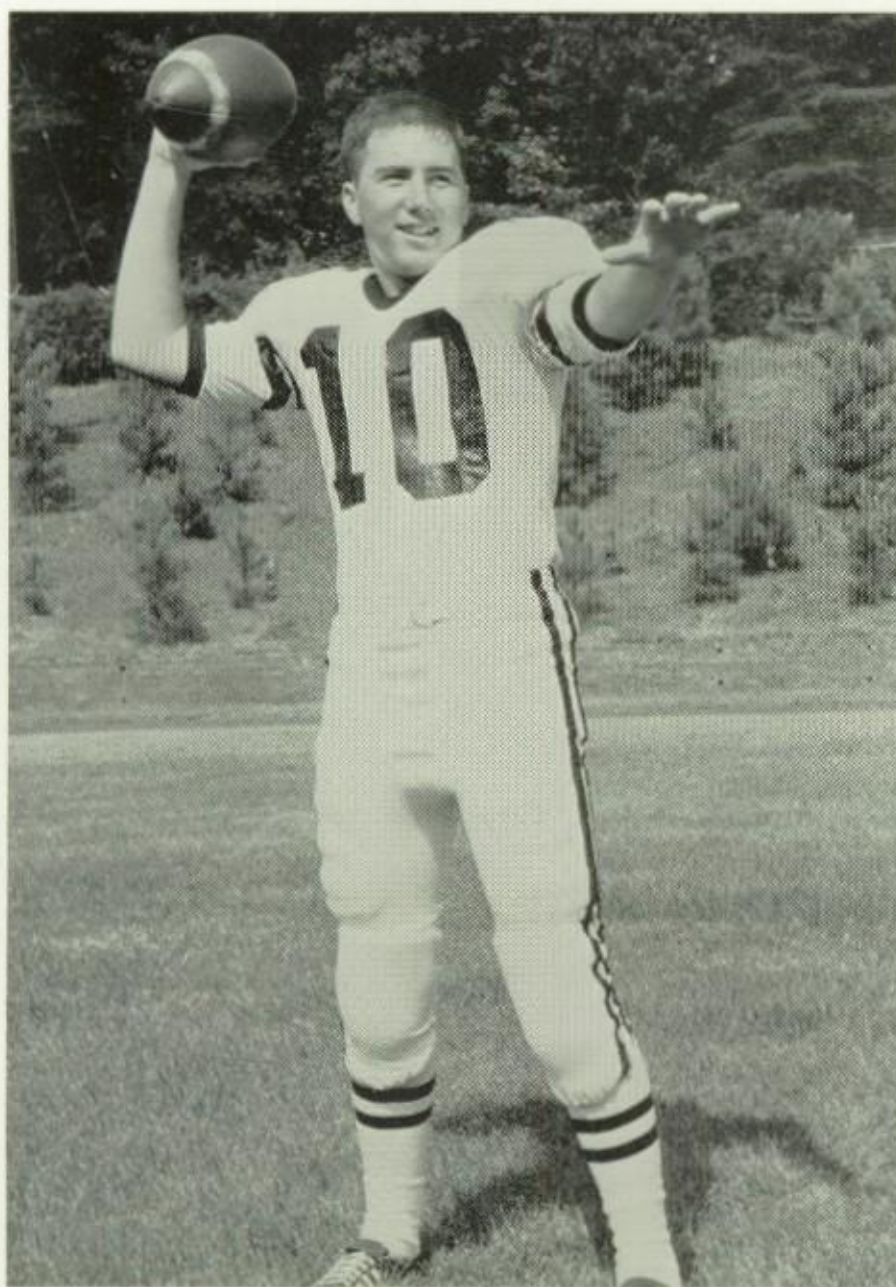

Pre-season opinions rated the Bulldogs to be poor. The tireless efforts of head coach C. A. Frye and his nucleus of lettermen were not in vain. Until the very last game, the Bulldogs were in the thick of the fight for championship laurels.

With smashing victories over Salisbury, Wilmington, Winston-Salem Gray, Northern Durham, Greensboro Page, and Lexington, the WHS eleven were outplayed only twice while being handed defeats by Grimsley, Winston-Salem Reynolds, High Point, and Durham. This is a fine credit to a team supposedly in a rebuilding year.

With the entire backfield and many key linemen returning plus several promising J. V.'s, the future looks bright for Bulldog football fortunes.

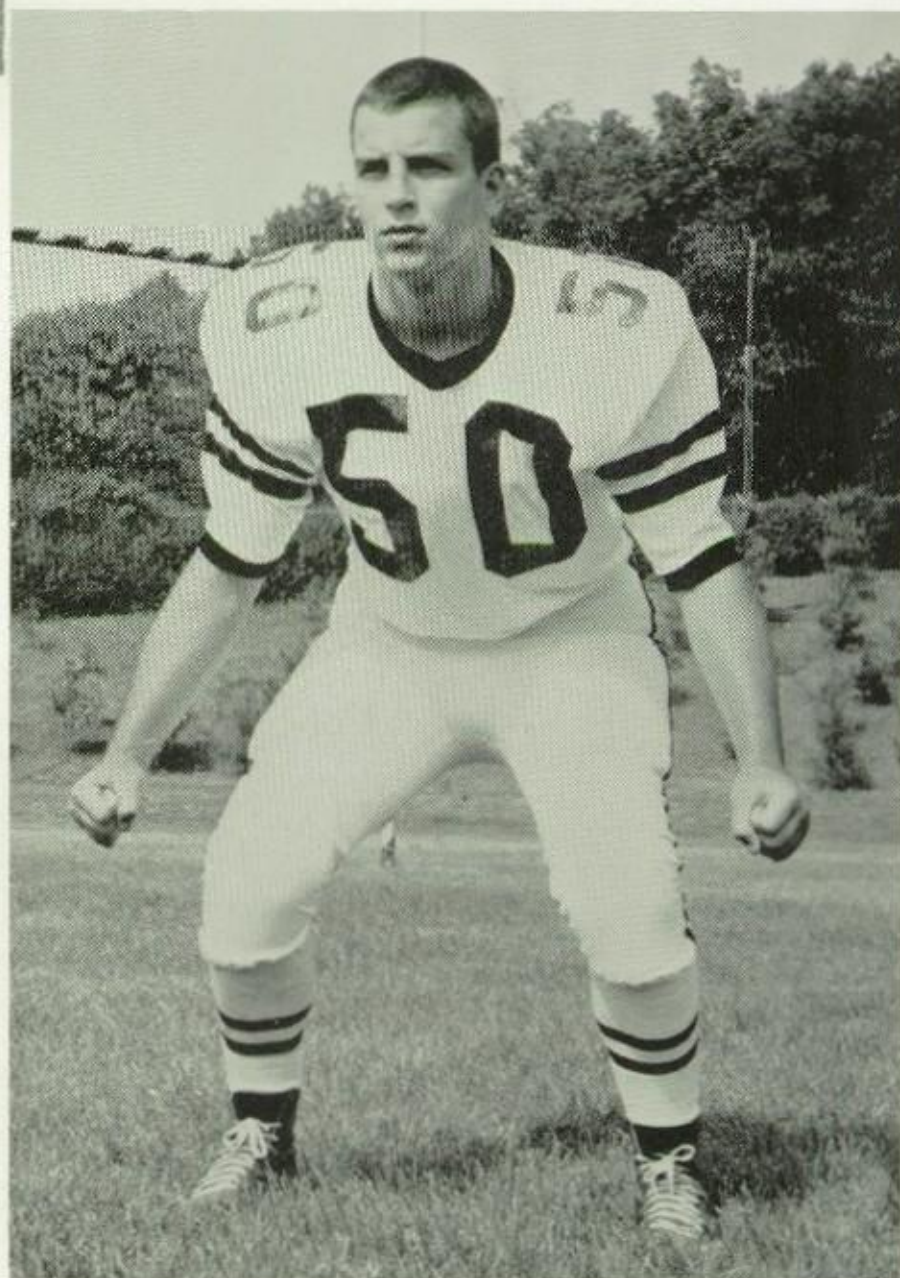

Co-Captains

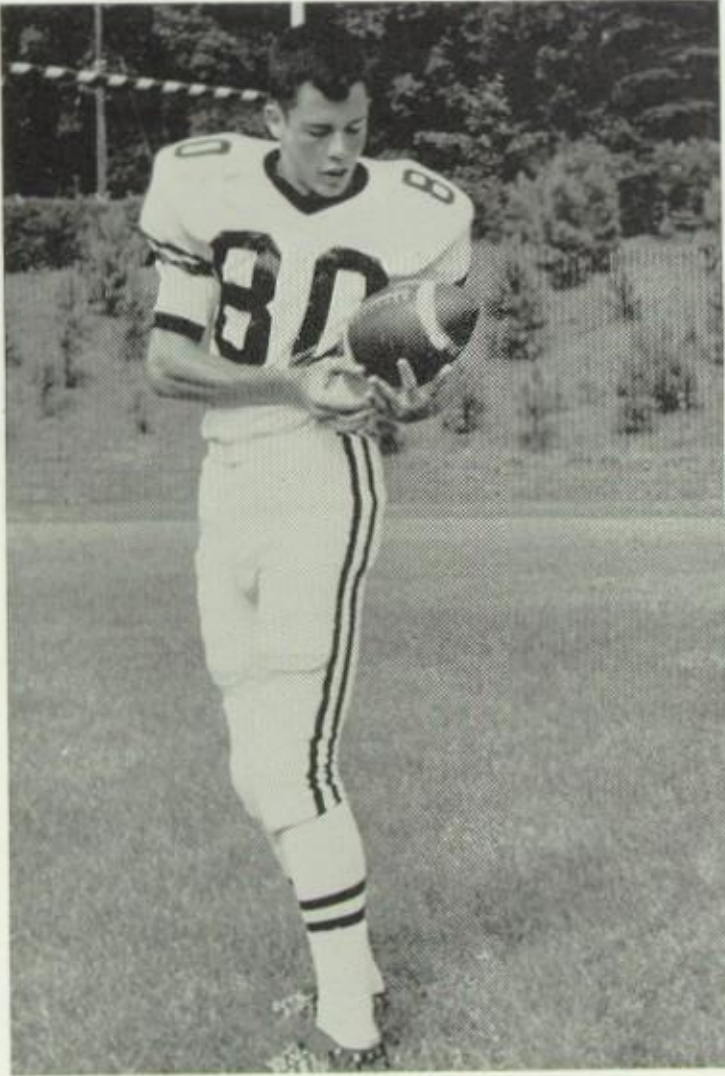

KENNY WALKER

Bill Spain possessed the true qualities of a co-captain. He led the Bulldog line play, which at times this season was ferocious. His inspirational leadership was a determining factor in the success of the 1963 football season. Spain always gave that extra margin and produced the added incentive to rank him among great WHS football players. Though hampered by a severe first-game knee injury, he received honors for his outstanding play.

These pictures represent football and its related activities at WHS. Mike Ellis demonstrates the desire and spirit of the team as he urges his fellow Bulldogs on to victory. A WHS student takes part in the celebration during the aftermath of victory as he rings the victory bell. One of the examples of the efforts of our fine coaching staff—Coach Gero giving his boys sideline instructions.

Opposite Page: Eddie Hicklin, a unanimous all-conference performer, tries to elude an on-rushing defender. Hicklin demonstrated several fantastic moves during the season.

Drive, determination

During the annual Black-White game, Butch Wilson attempts an end run, with Curtis Allred preparing to offer resistance. This game has become a highlight of the beginning of each season.

One of the big thrills of the season was the sensational punting of Dick Patton. He averaged over forty yards a punt. Many times his punting forced opponents into poor field position, which aided the final outcome of the game.

Preparing for an end run led by the valuable blocking of Jim Newlin, Eddie Hicklin goes against the High Point opposition. Hicklin from his tailback position carried the ball a majority of the time to be the real workhorse of the team.

and teamwork

Many exciting moments of the season were attributed to the sensational punt returning of Eddie Hicklin. He developed into one of the best broken field runners in the state, returning twelve punts for touchdowns. Against Page, Dave Bennett prepares to lead interference on a Hicklin return.

As an example of the determination and desire of the Watchdog defensive unit, many times they gang-tackled opposing runners. Without the supreme efforts of these boys, the success of the season could not have been what it was.

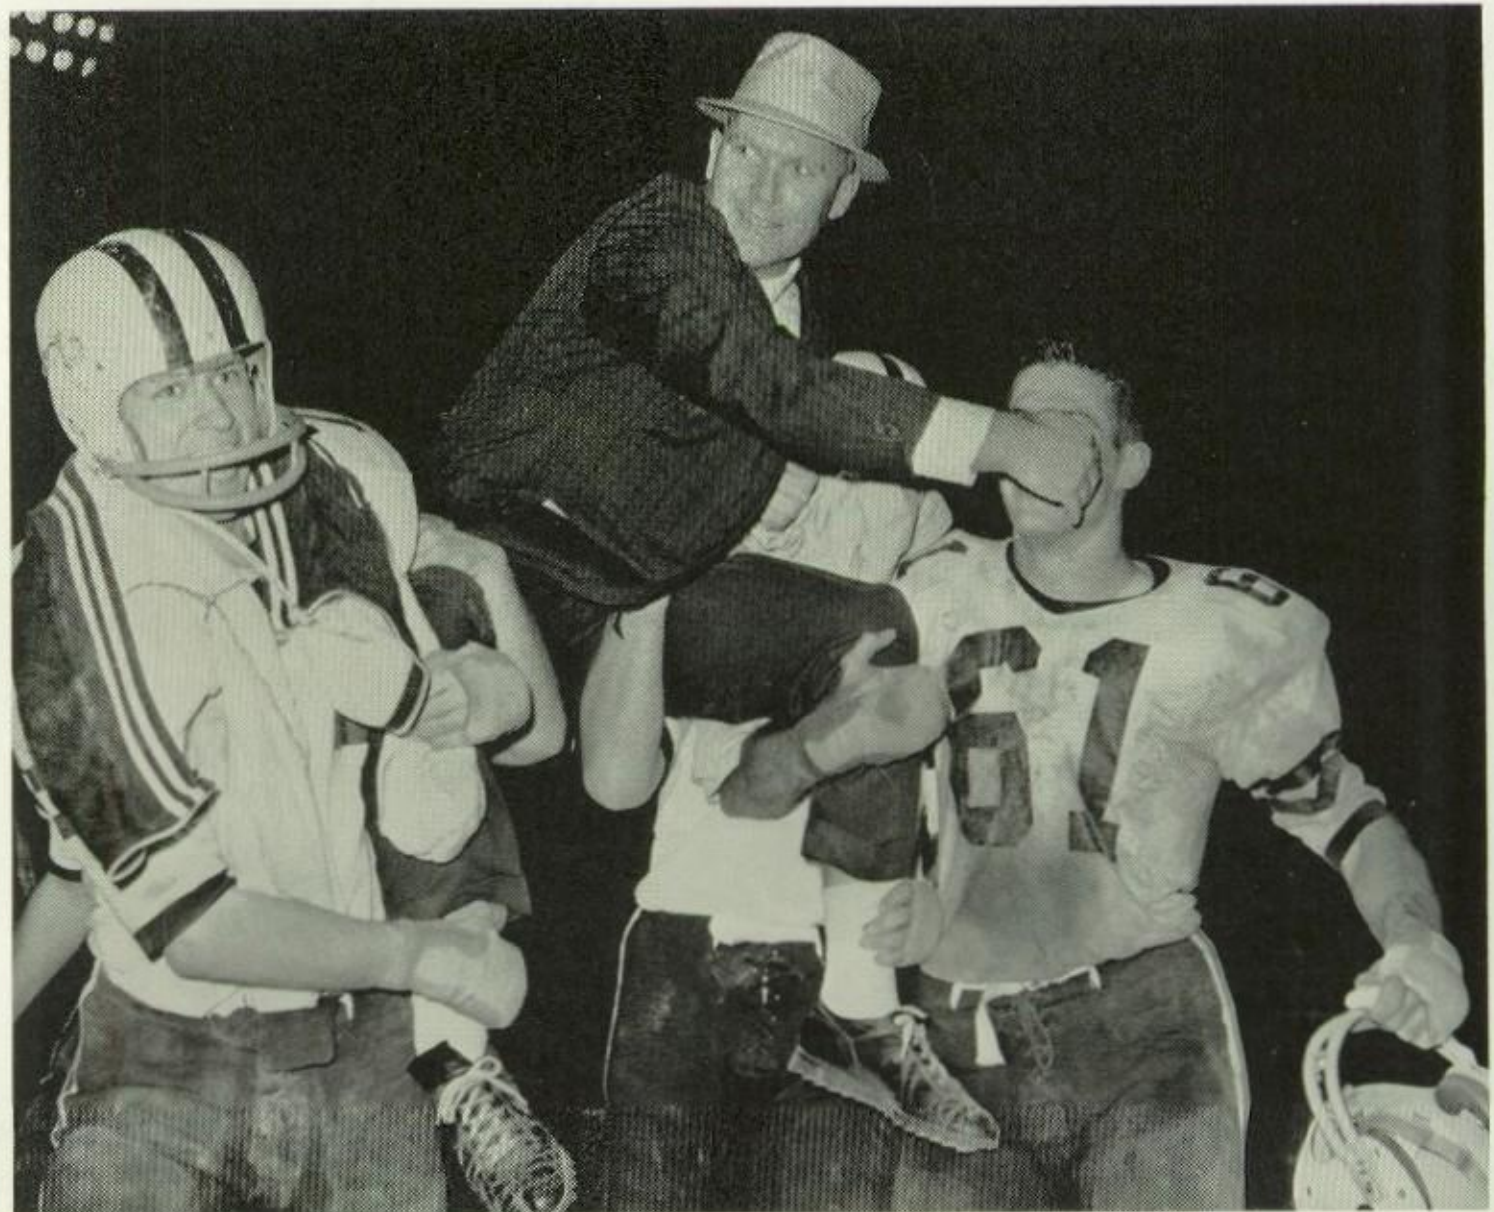

To add variety to the Bulldog offensive punch, wingback Mike Ellis runs a reverse against Northern Durham. Jim Newlin laid a ferocious block on a defender to spring Ellis loose for the gain. The spirit of the student body was tremendous during the homecoming affair.

equals victory.

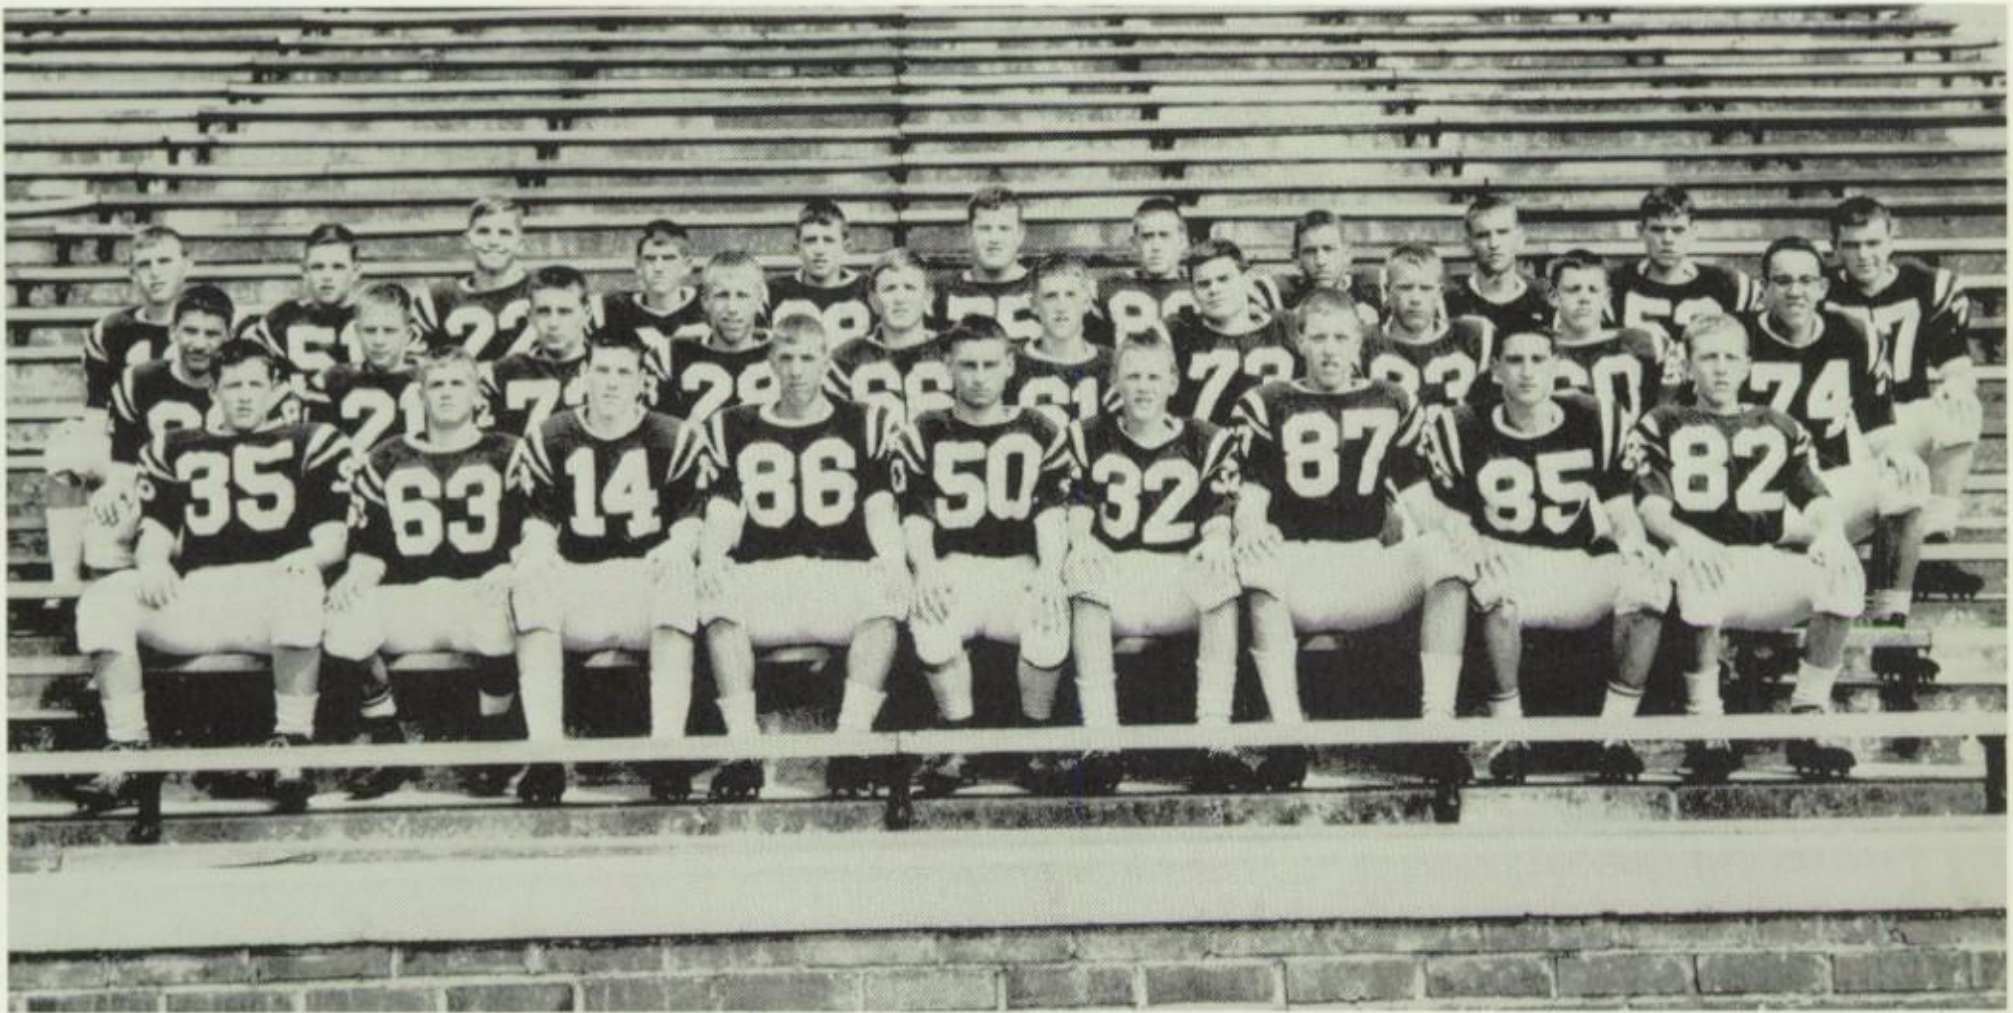

The key to victory in many games is the half-time strategy employed by the coaches after seeing the offensive attack and defensive formations of the opposing teams. Coach Frye is reviewing his team's mistakes and giving them corrections to avoid these mistakes. Discussing flaws in opponent's strategy and giving helpful tips should be of value during the second half. This period also affords the players the opportunity to rest.

The height of the week's practice and sacrifice and the coaches' hard work is reached during the thrill of victory after a game. Coach Frye is given a shoulder ride by the players after the team's big win over Lexington. This picture typifies the spirit and cohesion of the players and coaches at WHS. It is the desire of every coach to experience the thrill of such an occasion.

Jim Tatum attempts an end-sweep against Salisbury. Jeff Graves is providing interference.

The Junior Varsity had a slow start this season but rapidly gained momentum to finish with a successful season. In posting four wins, three losses, and one tie, players such as Tommy Jones, Butch Rudd, Jim Tatum, Charlie Maness, Sammy Roser, Jeff Graves, Bill Gee, and Doug Baker demonstrated great promise. Due to the teamwork and the efforts displayed by its members, the potential of the Junior Varsity deserves respect.

First row: M. Garrison, B. Kernodle, M. Beamon, J. Pitts, B. Spain, M. Meachem, H. Pollard. Second row: B. Lilien, A. Gipple, B. Higgins, P. Pate, M. Spann. Third row: Coach Wiggins, F. Marley, D. Langley, H. Hall, manager, D. Burwell, manager, T. Hemrick, trainer.

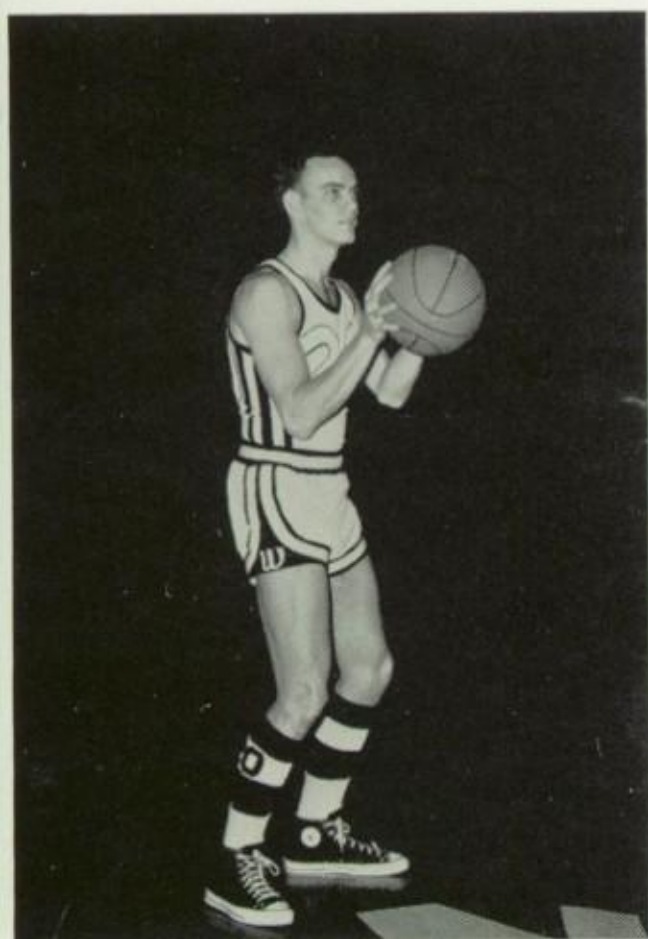

Sporting new uniforms, a new coach, and mostly new players, the 1963-64 Bulldog cagers under the hand of Coach "Twig" Wiggins, are faced with a rebuilding season. Only Johnny Pitts returns from the starting five which swept the Central 4-A crown last year.

Coach Wiggins builds his starting five around a trio of returning lettermen: Bill Spain, Mike Spann, and Pitts. Mike Garrison, Mike Meachem, Art Gipple, and David Bowes are other rotating starters.

It appeared that the season would be a long one as the Bulldogs dropped all six pre-Christmas games to strong eastern opposition. After the holidays a different team has emerged, winning three straight conference games before sustaining a loss in loop action. As the annual goes to press, the Bulldogs are in the thick of the conference race with a 5-3 record.

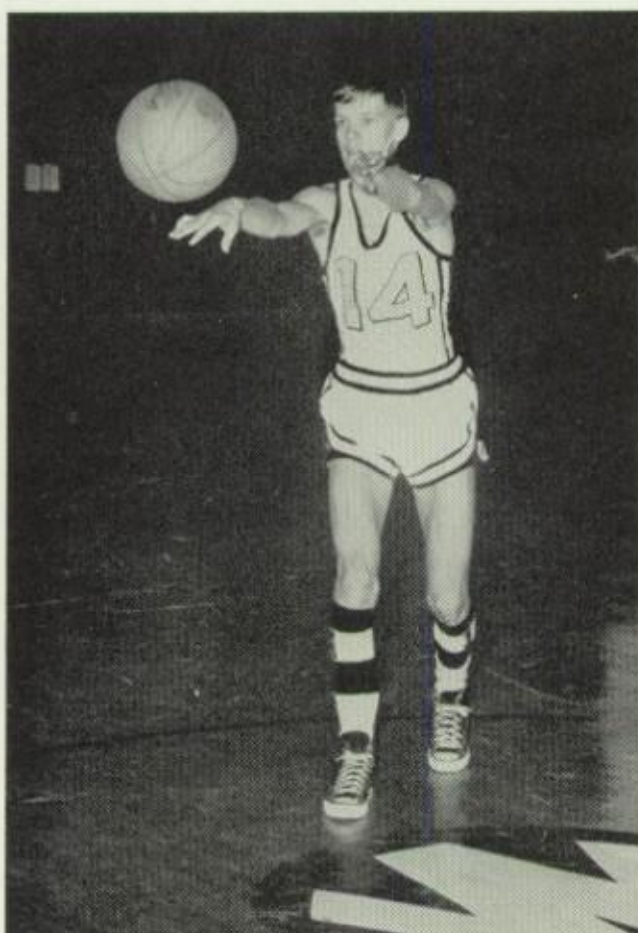

Co-captains Bill Spain and Johnny Pitts lead the Bulldogs. Pitts demonstrated his clutch play with a last-second goal which brought a thrilling upset victory over previous unbeaten Page.

Junior Mike Spann has emerged as the outstanding individual of this year's five. He leads the team in scoring and rebounding and has done an outstanding job under extreme pressure, scoring twenty points on several occasions. Co-captains Pitts and Spain have provided the team with a balanced scoring attack and added rebounding power. Guard Mike Garrison is a standout as floor general, and his speed and defensive ability are tops, while Mike Meacham is a fine shot and a good defensive player. Art Gipple's shooting eye and David Bowe's rebounding strength are expected to help the Bulldogs in the stretch drive.

The Bulldogs have alternated their man-to-man and zone defenses with a zone press on several occasions. Their slow, deliberate offense has been supplemented by a fast break the second half of the season.

Jayvees show promise

In a short time, Coach Kerry Richards has welded his sophomore quint into a fine team, which features a well-groomed offense. Led by the scoring of center Jimmy Lee, the team has put together a fine 8-6 record, with the other four starters alternating or sharing scoring honors. Black, Traynham, Joyce, Wilson, and Blackwell have all performed well. The addition of this fine team to this year's junior-dominated varsity leaves WHS followers with a hopeful future next year, as all members of this jayvee team are considered prime varsity prospects. Coach Richards has done a good job in building a winning team with players from the two junior high schools.

After last year's effort, which netted the wrestling squad a second place in the regional meet and also in the state meet, where they had three state champions, John Loy, Larry Surber and Chuck Stedman, this year's team is expecting to duplicate or exceed this record. Coach Dameron is looking to Co-captains Bill Purdy and Wallace Hardwick and junior Steve Allen to carry the '64 WHS team into the state meet.

REGIONALS, CONFERENCE, AND STATE

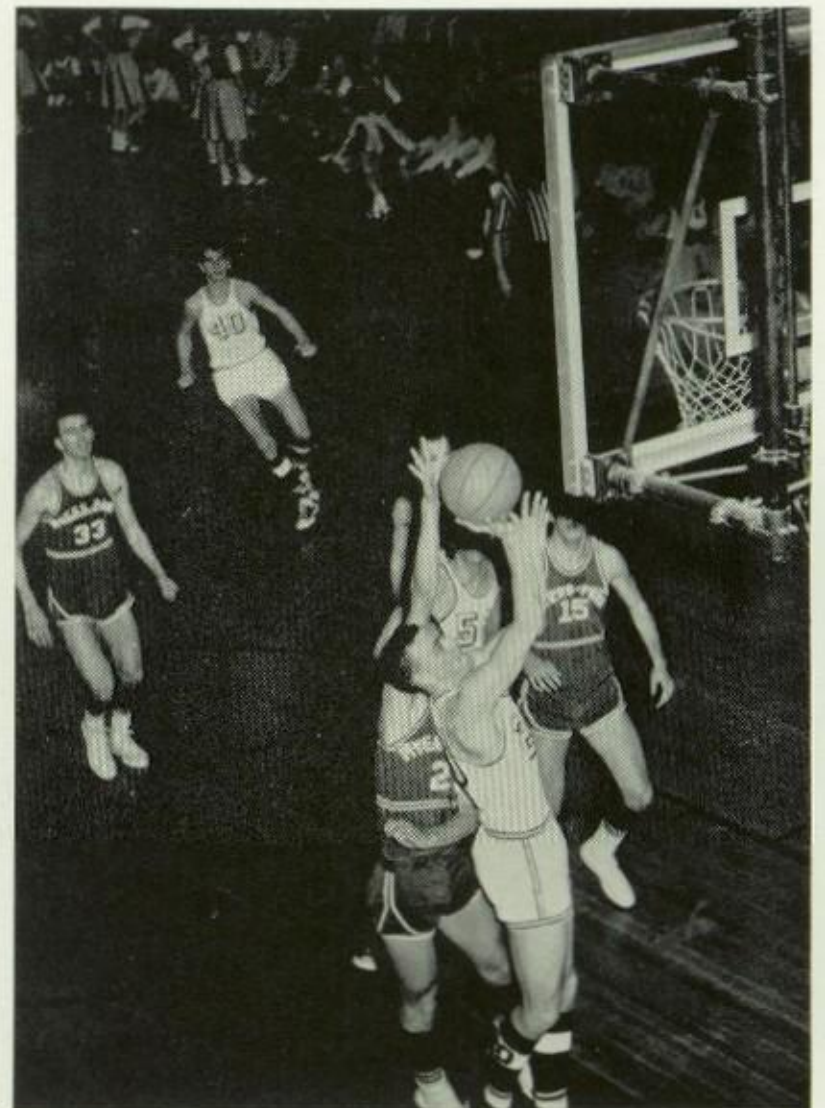

Williams' best athletes participated in many tournaments last year. Among them were the Basketball State 4-A Tournament, the Regional Wrestling Tournament held here at Williams, the State Wrestling Tournament, the Regional Track Tournament, the Conference Track Tournament, the State Track Tournament, the Conference Tennis Tournament, the State Tennis Tournament, the Conference Golf Tournament, and the State Golf Tournament. During these tourneys W.H.S. had many individual standouts. Scoring 68 points in three games, Bill Gentry was named to the All-Conference Basketball team. We had three state wrestling champions—John Loy, Chuck Stedman, and Larry Surber. Jim Donnan took singles championship in the State Tennis Tournament, and Mike Spann placed second in the Conference Golf Tournament.

In NCAA Competition, Jim Donnan lays in two more points.

Gentry demonstrates how he made All-Tournament.

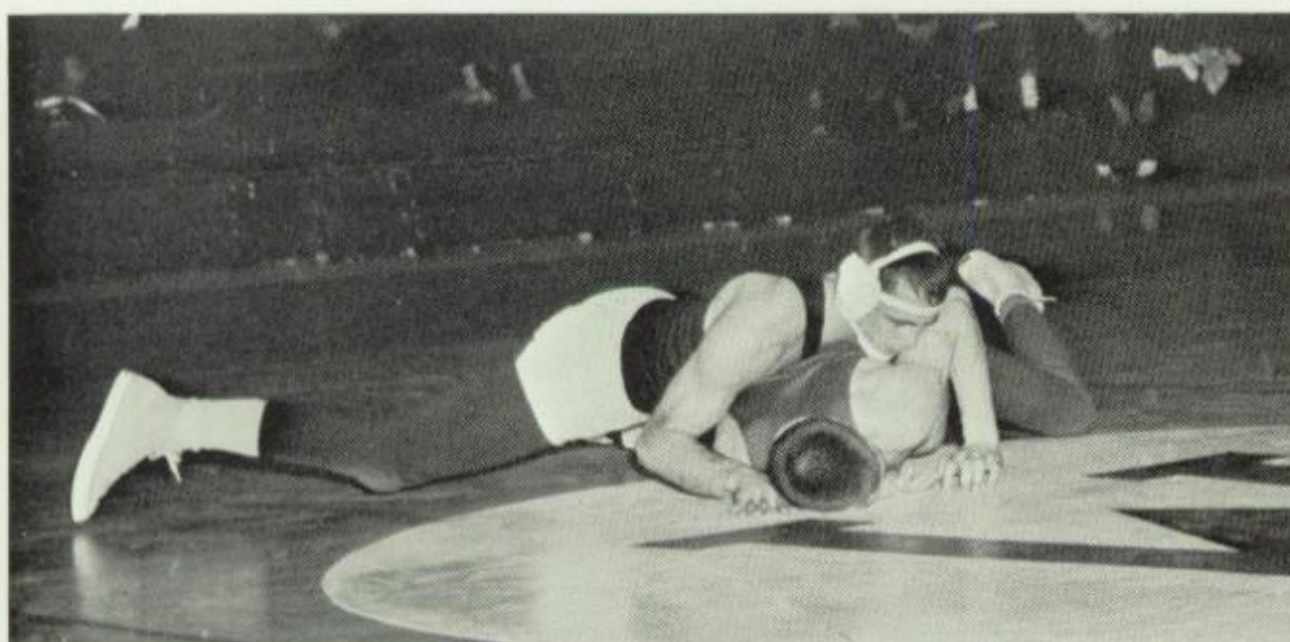

Johnny Pitts adds a big two points against Myers Park in the consolation game.

BASEBALL

Even though last year's team achieved only a 7-11 won-lost record, they showed great improvement over the previous year's effort, and Coach Frye is looking to this year's team to improve on last year's record.

The baseball team's effort will be led by seniors Doug Frazier, Vic Winburn, Steve Lassiter, Tommy Sox, Steve Chappell, Johnny Massey, Mickey Combs, Landy Blackwell, J. B. Haith, and Jim Conklin.

Track team off

Dick Patton flashes across the line at Grimsley.

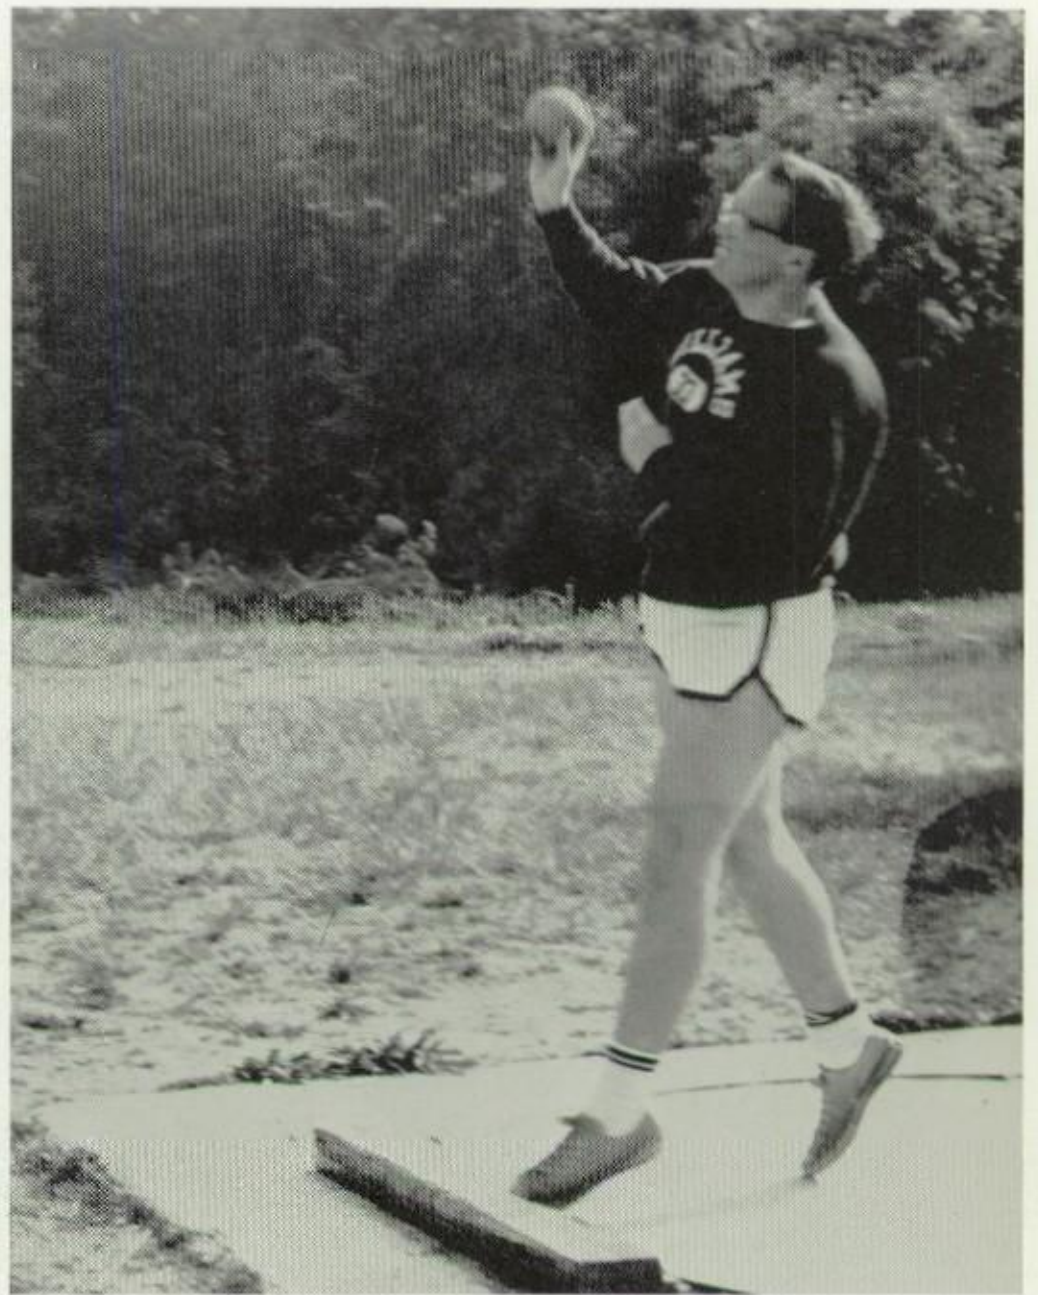

Our '63 track team placed third in conference standings, third in the conference meet in Greensboro, and third in the sectional meet in Winston-Salem at Wake Forest College. Both the 880 relay team and the mile relay team went all the way to the state meet. Bob McLeod was the all-around standout in field events. Leading in 100 and 200 yard dash, Mike Ray in the 880, and Jimmy Durham in the mile, and Dick Patton in the 120 yard high hurdles and the 180 yard low hurdles. Returning this year to boost the team will be Dick Patton, Robert Schoderbek, Philip Flowers, George Sutphen, Skip Whitenack, Mike Ellis, Jim Newlin, Mike Garrison, Kenny May, and Eddie Hicklin.

First row: Jimmy Bost, Skip Whitenack, Mike Ellis, Jimmy Durham, Jim Newlin. This year's tennis team will be striving to match last year's record of 10 wins and 2 losses, which earned them second place in the conference and second place in the state playoffs, where Jim Donnan won the State Individual Championship. Leading the team this year will be senior Jimmy Walker and juniors Charles Chance, David Pardue, Dee Lashley, Jim Jeffries, and Bobby Webster.

For that special someone

R.

Rodney,

Who would have ever guessed two years ago, that we would be going together now? Everything has just worked out perfectly and I hope we can keep it this way. The past two months have been just wonderful and I hope they are only the beginning.

The first time I saw you, I knew that you weren't just any old boy. The more I saw you, the more you meant to me. I just didn't know how to let you know. We had so many problems then, we just couldn't get things straightened out. Well, it's taken us two years to finally do it and I really believe everything's fine and will stay that way. I'm going to try to keep them that way and I hope you will too.

Rodney, you are the greatest boy I've ever known in my life. You are good-looking, you have fine qualities and above all you are thoughtful. I couldn't possibly ask for anything more. You're just great.

I hope things stay as they are now, forever. But if they do change, I hope you won't ever forget me, because I will always consider you as my "special someone." Thank you for all the good times you've shown me and I'm looking forward to the summer. I love you.

Given

Just between friends

Rodney -

Even though things were a little different last year at this time ("remember?") I still think you're one of the greatest guys I know. I'm glad you're a key clubber - stay as you are & you'll go far in this world.

Love,
Dede.

Pen a few words

It has been fun in English class. Maybe someday you will find some physiology you agree with
Eddie Beck

Rodney,
I have enjoyed being in your W. A. cog. think class this year. I don't think either of us did our best on the course. I hope both of us pass.
Best of luck next year and in your college career.
Mickey Merritt

Rodney,
I've enjoyed being in your class this year and hope for the same opportunity next year. May you always have the best in life.
Lots of luck,
Elizabeth
Spencer

i Escriba usted!

Rod —

I'm glad you got in Rory Club this year. I think you're a great guy & good friend, I hope — you know Rodney.
I've only known you for about
3 years but what a hell-of-a time.
I don't believe how much fun we've had in in in in English (I studied a lot) Say hello to Gwendolyn. But all in all I can sum it up in two words You Suck!

Best Luck,
Bill Higgins

Rodney, I saw
when I first saw you I lost you, I used to think to myself, "He looks like that now". I would be the nicest boy.
Was it right? I know you I can see and I was in the really admit you to it really saw me. I can see you all wonderful boy! looks and all!
Best of luck in the future
Barbara (Don't forget me just because I'll be at don't next year)

Final copy

Rodney,
I know you're afraid
I'll write something bad in this book. I think you're a great guy even if you beat me in ping pong.
Best of luck,
Eddie Hopkins

Rodney,
This year has gone by quite rapidly. I want you to know that you have added much to the memories that will remain in my mind. Best of luck,
Ted Neal

Rodney,

It has been great this year. I do think you should marry the girl for the kids sake. Kidding I think it would be best.
Rod this has been a great year. Oh yes,
Did you have a good time at the prom?
Best of luck

Bo Bivens

Rodney,

It's been fun messing around WHS together this year. We'll never forget the times we had in Mr. Culpepper's Class. We really had some great discussions on marriage, morality, etc. It's too bad that we didn't have any student teachers to pick on like we did our numerous speakers. We sure had some great times at De Molay, didn't we? Well, this year is just about over, but we can look forward to a great summer.

Best of luck to a great fellow,
Steve Hooper

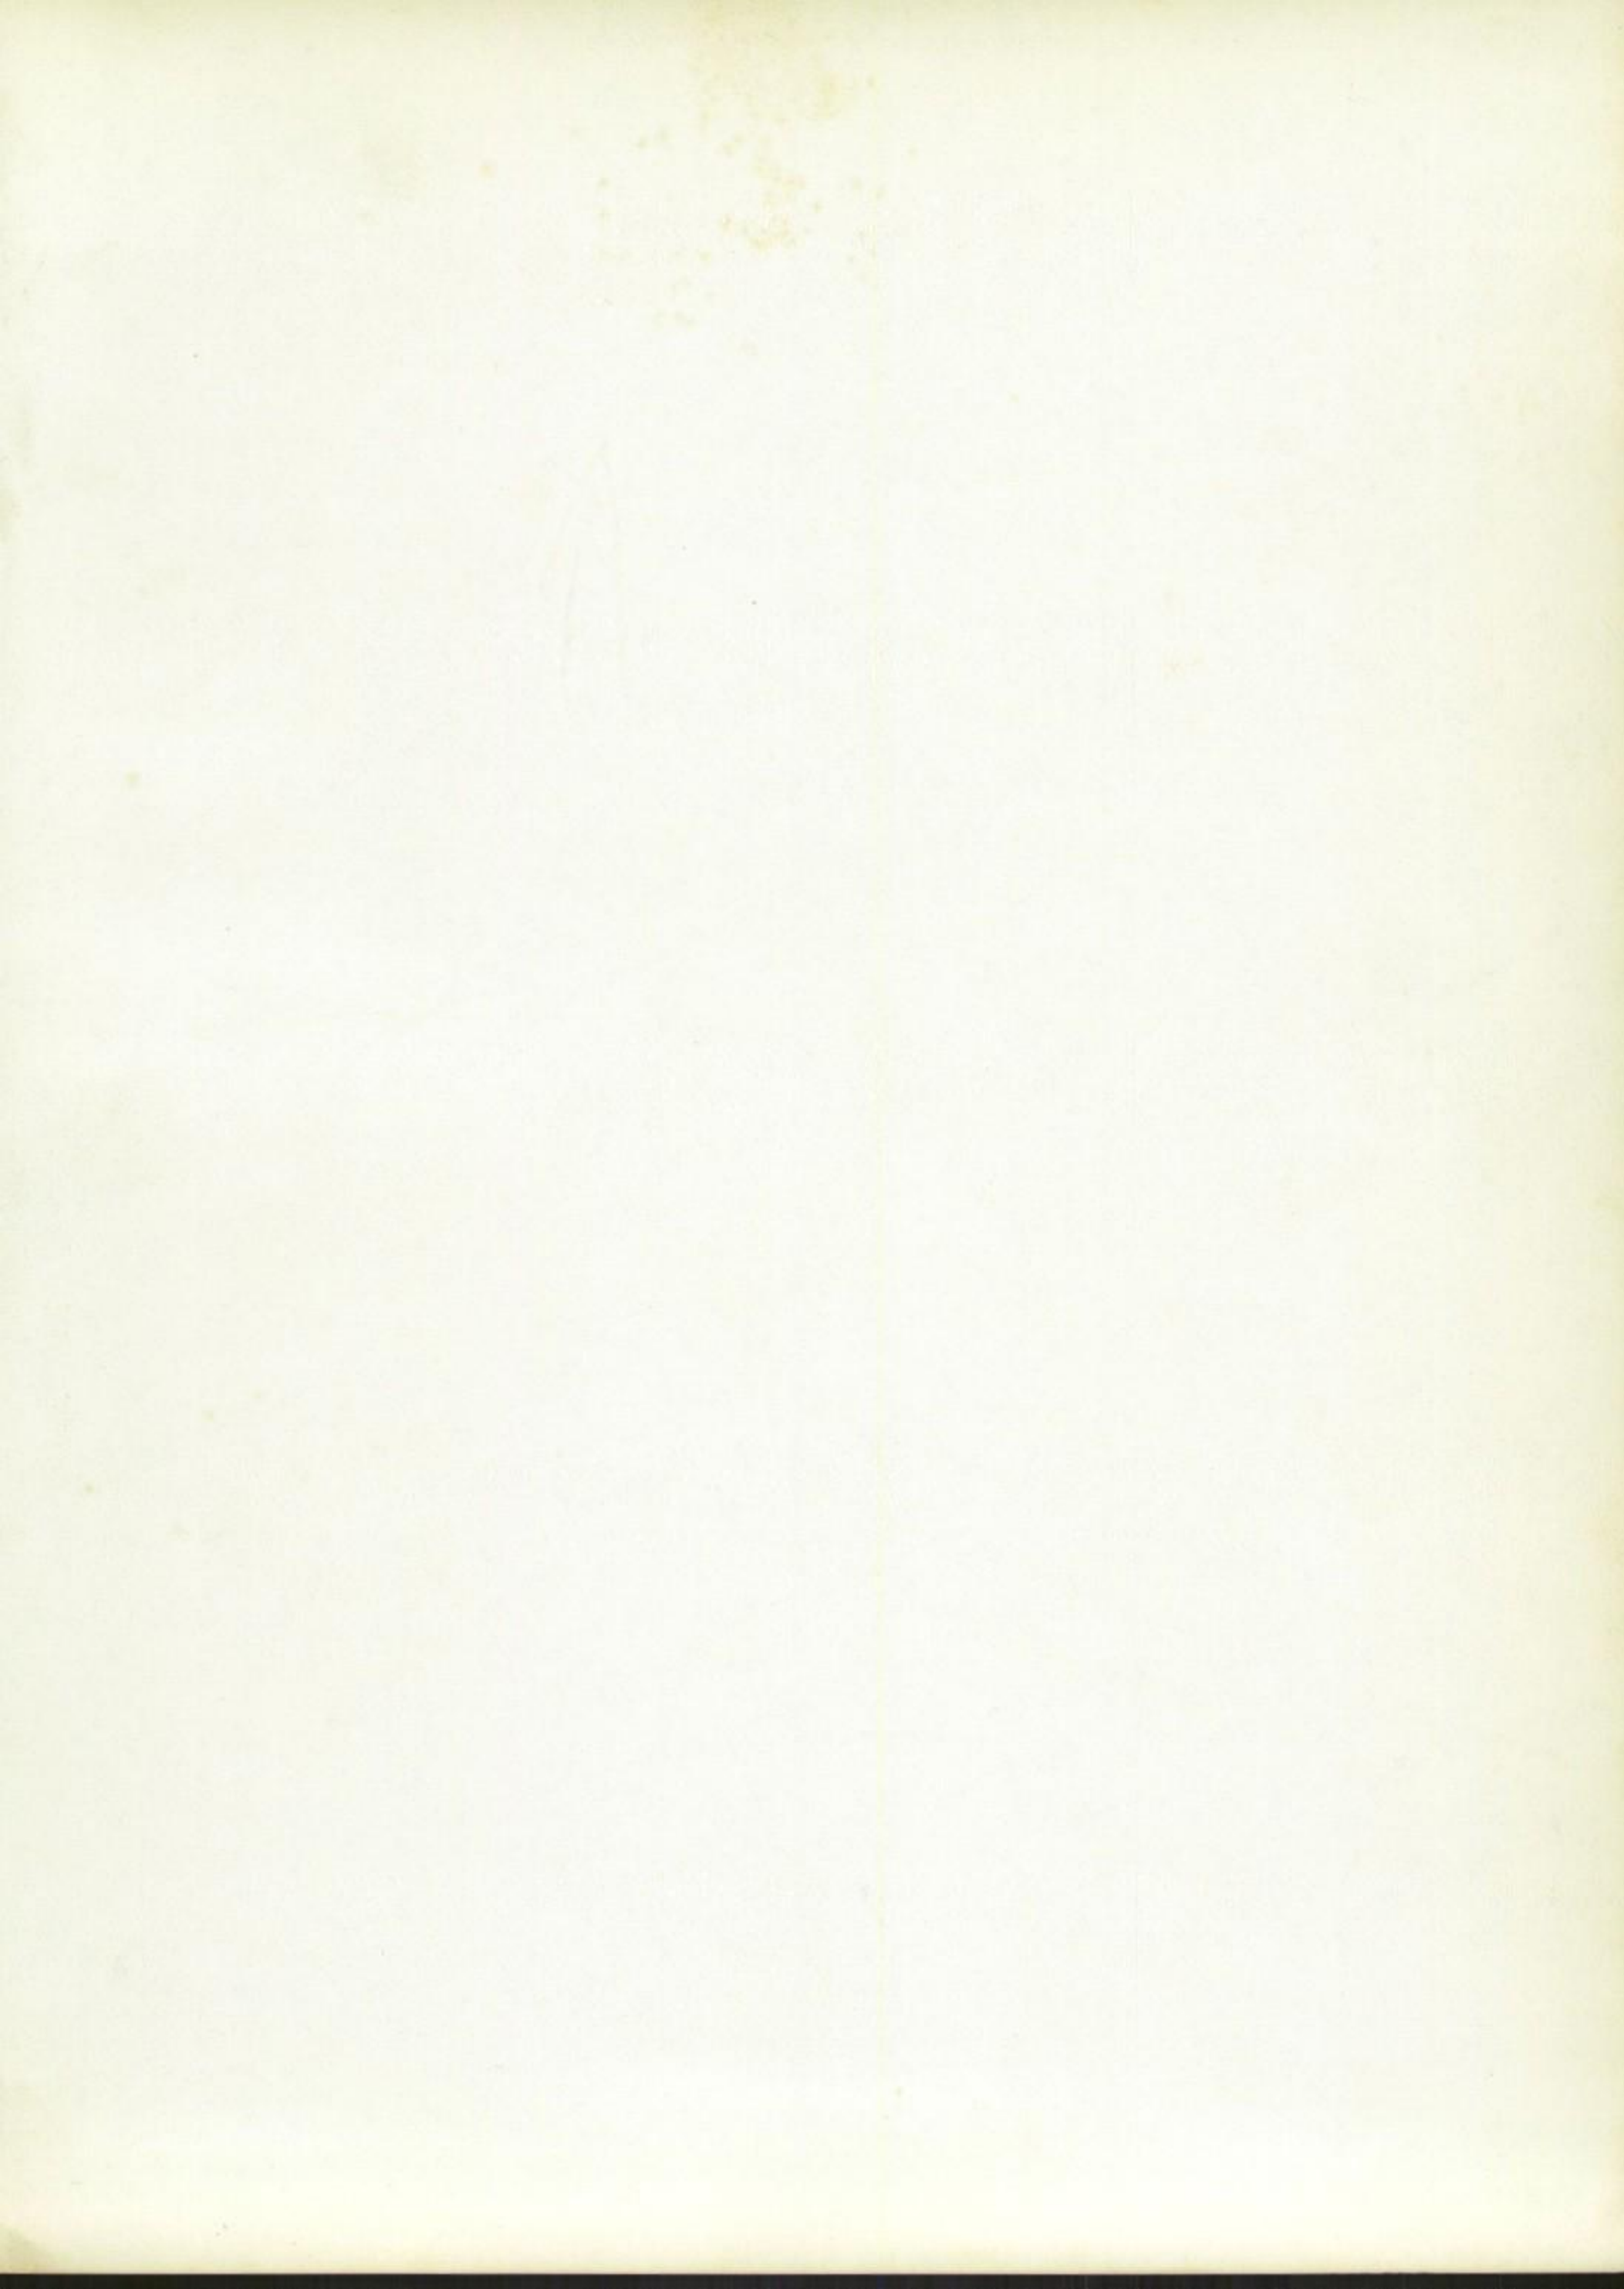

Rodney,
It's been great fun this year on week - ends when we weren't in school, hasn't it? We really had a blast in Culpepper's room, though - from dirty jokes to guest speakers, just one big ball.

Best of luck,
Bain Heffner
